Weekly Financial Review.

NEW YORK, July 21, 1894.

During the past week, inactivity in Wall Street affairs has been the rule and not the exception. The amount of transaction in stocks has been very limited; the professional operators think a dull market a good occasion for summer recreation and have availed themselves of the opportunity.

There can be no question that the preponderant feeling in the Stock Market is decidedly "bullish." This tendency is not a mere transient whim. It is the result of a fixed conviction that, at present prices and under existing conditions, the leading stocks are a cheap investment. This feeling has been steadily gaining ground for some time past, and hence the difficulty the "bears" have found in making any impression on prices. No systematic effort has been made to turn this feeling to account, first because certain uncertainties have stood in the way, and next because it has seemed likely that, when those obstacles were removed, prices would rise almost without any effort on the part of holders. The large holders of stocks are therefore willing to rest on their holdings, waiting until the summer absentees return from the country, with the prospect that, in the meantime, conditions will continue to improve and that September may find the market ready for a brisk upward movement.

It must be conceded that some very material improvements in the general condition of affairs have lately occurred. We are close on the termination of the twelve months of suspense connected with tariff legislation. Whether the present crisis in that question ends in the enactment of the bill or in its defeat, matters little to the immediate welfare of business. If the bill becomes law, preparations have already been made in our industries for giving effect to the lower duties with minimum of disturbance to manufacturers. If it is defeated, both sides will concede that, at least no present injury, but rather an immediate stimulus, must result to domestic interests at large. From this point of view, Wall Street takes comparatively little interest in the failure of the Joint Committee of the two Houses to reach an agreement on this measure.

The end of the Debs strike has contributed to a great strengthening of confidence in the future of the transportation interests. The constant attitude of threat held by some of the unions and the increasing violence of their strikes has been a steadily growing element of distrust in this class of investments, not only at home but also in the foreign markets for our securities. These unions have now put forth all the force they could summon in order to measure their strength with that of the railroads. They declared in advance that failure would mean not only present defeat but also the final overthrow of at least the strike as a method of warfare. They are defeated most utterly; and that in a way which makes it certain that the unions can never dominate the railroads except through the overthrow of the armed power not only of the cities and the States but also of the United States. This settlement is of immeasurable value not only to the railroads but also to the entire vast interests dependent upon the railroads for the safe and regular transportation of products which have so repeatedly suffered from the growing violences of employes led by injudicious leaders. It is thus felt that July has brought a great amelioration of the working conditions of our 175,000 miles of railroad.

The gold export bugbear has vanished. Legitimate shipments to Europe have virtually ceased, and the rates for sterling exchange have begun to show a downward tendency. Money has become such a complete "drug" at the European centres that the banks there want no more gold and prefer that their American balances should remain here when New York will pay a trifle more interest than can be earned at home. From London, advices report a marked increase in American securities, arising from their low prices as compared with other investments, and also from the failure of the labor power as against the railroads, and also from the near settlement of the tariff legislation, which naturally is there construed as pregnant with a great future expansion of our commerce and a consequent benefit to our railroads.

The forthcoming reports of the railroads show a material falling off in gross earnings which is no more than might be expected from the strike stoppages of traffic. Allowing for this special loss and for the interruptions to traffic for now some weeks connected with the coal strikes, the gross earnings for the expired portion of this year must be regarded as better than could have been expected under the existing depression, and warrant the contention held by many that the state of business at the interior has not been so unsatisfactory as it has been found at the seaboard cities.

HENRY CLEWS

The Law on Canada Thistles.

We have been requested to publish the law relating to the destruction of Canada thistles, and herewith publish the following brief, being the Act of April, 1885:

"It shall be the duty of every person, persons, or corporation owning lands in this Commonwealth, on which Canada thistles may be growing, to cut the same so as to prevent such thistles from going to seed, and every person who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this act, shall forfeit and pay a fine of fifteen dollars to the treasurer of the school fund, to be recovered the same as debts of like amount are now by law recoverable.

"If any person, persons or corporation holding lands as aforesaid, on which Canada thistles shall be growing and likely to ripen, shall neglect or refuse to cut and destroy the same, it shall be lawful for any person who may consider themselves aggrieved or about to be injured, to inform by written notice any constable or supervisor of the township or district whose duty it will then be to give five days' notice in writing to such persons to cut and destroy said weeds, and on their neglect or refusal to cut and destroy the same at the end of five days, it shall be the duty of the officer giving such notice to enter upon such premises, with such other person or persons as he may employ, and cut and destroy such Canada thistles, and the said officer or other person shall be entitled to recover compensation at the rate of two dollars and fifty cents a day, and the officer serving such notice shall likewise be entitled to a fee of fifty cents, with six cents mileage for each circular mile traveled, to be recovered as debts of like amount before any justice or court in said county.

"It shall be the duty of the supervisor of the public roads to cut and destroy in the same manner all such Canada thistles along such roads; and if any such supervisor shall neglect or refuse to perform his duties; he shall be liable to a fine of ten dollars, the same to be sued for and recovered as aforesaid, by the party or parties aggrieved or injured."

A Great Farmers' Meeting.

There will open at Williams' Grove, Cumberland county, Pa., thirteen miles southwest of Harrisburg, August 27th, the largest agricultural exhibition ever held in the Middle Atlantic States. The exhibits alone will cover over 30 acres of ground. Three meetings will be held daily in the large auditorium, which will be addressed by speakers of national reputation. President Cleveland will be in attendance if official duties will permit. The Secretary of Agriculture will be glad to meet the practical farmers of the country on this occasion. There will be free concerts, musical and literary entertainments every evening during the week. All who can should attend the great exhibition. For full information relative to exhibit space, cottage and tents, write R. H. Thomas, General Manager, Mechanicsburg, Pa. Excursion over all railroads, one fare the round trip.

Sudden Death.

Mrs. Reuben Lucas died suddenly at Howard on Friday. She had been engaged in her house work and went out on the porch to sit down. Suddenly she fell over dead. Heart disease is supposed to be cause of death. The deceased is survived by her husband and five children—Thomas, of Chicago, Wm. of Dagus Mines; Clyde, Sallie and Mrs. Wm. Confer, of Howard. She was a sister of Mrs. O. T. Noble, of Lock Haven. Mrs. Lucas was a lady known for her many estimable qualities and her sudden death will be sincerely mourned by her large circle of acquaintances. The funeral took place on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Services were conducted at the house.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, July 23, 1894.

From Our Regular Correspondent.)

Grover's Epistle to the Free Traders still holds its own as the most absorbing subject of conversation now before the public. It was bad taste and an outrageous assumption of authority for Mr. Cleveland to have written that letter and it only aggravated the case when he compelled Mr. Wilson to read it as part of his speech on the floor of the House; but there is no denying that the letter has had, at least partially, the effect it was intended to have. It has made it certain that the House will never agree to the Senate amendments to the tariff bill, because, as Senator Hill significantly remarked, such agreement would merely result in getting the bill vetoed. It has had another effect, however, which it is certain was neither expected nor intended by its writer. It has wrought a sufficient number of democratic Senators to control the senate with the help of the solid republican vote up to publicly declaring that they would refuse to vote to accept any conference report that puts upon the free list any article upon which the Senate amendment placed a duty.

That is just the way the things stand. The House will not accept the Senate bill, and the Senate will not accept the House bill. Now the only change that can take place must involve the surrender of either the House or the Senate. It can be surmised, without any great risk of making a mistake, that Mr. Cleveland will be able to prevent any surrender on the part of the House, and as the democratic Senators who added the protection amendments to the bill did so because of pressure from the states they represent, it would seem that they might be counted upon to stand firm even if they were not strengthened by their hatred of Mr. Cleveland, not only because of the insulting manner in which he refers to them in his letter, but also because of the manner in which he has tried to boss his party in Congress—and succeeded, too—from the day on which he became President. Still, if there is a break in the lines of either side it is believed that it will be on the part of the Senate. The republicans are playing the part of onlookers at the contest, but they are by no means disinterested. On the contrary, they are so much interested that Senator Aldrich has asked all unpaired republican Senators to be on hand and to remain within call until the tariff is in some way disposed of. The republicans wish to accomplish one of two things—prevent any tariff legislation, if that can be done; otherwise to aid in getting as many of the Senate amendments as possible in the bill that finally gets through.

Mr. Cleveland's alleged arguments in favor of the sugar trust and of the Whitney Nova Scotia coal syndicate, in which all the world knows the money of his closest personal and political friends is heavily invested, have greatly weakened his position and added to the chances for non-action on the tariff bill. Everybody knows that Mr. Cleveland's friends put their money into that coal syndicate solely because he assured them that free coal was a certainty, and, although it is not absolutely known, there are excellent reasons for the belief that other friends of his have obtained options on certain Cuban iron mines upon assurance that iron ore was also to be free.

Did some democraticSenators commit perjury when they swore that they had never purchased stock in the sugar trust? The direct change has been made that they did, and the Senate committee has reopened the investigation and is again taking testimony. It is keeping the testimony very dark, too, members of the committee claiming to be afraid that its publication might result in preventing the committee obtaining important evidence. It is rumored that at least one witness has sworn to having seen a written order for the purchase of sugar stock, which was given by a democratic Senator and is now in existence, and to have told the committee in whose possession it is. The gossip concerning this matter has been very much enlivened by the statement that certain parties who had been snubbed by certain Senators proposed to "get even" by furnishing the evidence to make a case of perjury against one Senator, in order that the whole business might be brought out in court. There is little doubt in Washington that perjury has been committed, but there is very much as to whether it will be proven. If written order for the purchase of sugar stock, which was given by a democratic Senator and is now in existence, and to have told the committee in whose possession it is. The gossip concerning this matter has been very enlivened by the statement that certain parties who had been snubbed by certain Senators proposed to "get even" by furnishing the evidence to make a case of perjury against one Senator, in order that the whole business might be brought out in court. There is little doubt in Washington that perjury has been committed, but there is very much as to whether it will be proven. If written orders for the purchase of sugar stock are in existence it is more likely that they will be used to control Senatorial votes than that they will be produced before the investigating committee or in court.

The House on Saturday passed by the necessary two-thirds vote the joint resolution providing for a constitntional amendment for the election of U. S. Senators by direct vote of the people.

The Biggest United States Map.

One of the most attractive features of the old Broad Street station was the big map of the country painted on the wall of the general waiting room, where it was always viewed with much interest. It disappeared in the general tearing out of the old quarters, but will have a worthy successor in a new map which the Pennsylvania railroad officials contemplate having painted in the new station. This will be a monster, 115 feet long and fifteen feet wide, and will be the biggest thing of the kind in the world. It is to be painted on canvass, and will adorn the Filbert street side of the great waiting room. Not only will it show the Pennsylvania system and its connections, but all of the country as well, from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the Gulf of Mexico to Canada —Philadelphia Record.

To Saw the Runaway Logs.

The saw mills at Sparrows Point, Md., will commence on Monday to saw the logs that were taken adrift in May from the Lock Haven and Williamsport booms. The mills at the Point have been closed since May 27, 1893, when the last of the logs which floated down in the disastrous flood of 1889 had been sawed. There are about 40,000,000 feet to be disposed of now, and it is estimated that it will take a year and a half to complete the work, 125 men being employed in the saw mill and 150 in collecting logs on the various booms on the bay.

Fell in the Cistern.

On Saturday afternoon the 21 months' old child of Mr. and Mrs. A. Boyd Cowher, of Fillmore, fell in the cistern connected with their house. The water receptacle was sixteen feet deep and there was five feet of water therein. The child would have drowned but for the heroism of its mother, who immediately jumped in after it and succeeded in keeping above water until Boyd was summoned and safely rescued mother and child. And, strange as it may seem, aside from the shock, neither one was at all injured.

Protect the Children.

Many people do not know how easily they can protect themselves and their children against the bites of gnats and other insects. Weak carbolic acid sponged on the skin and hair, and in some cases, the clothing will drive away the whole tribe. The safest plan is to keep a saturated solution of the acid. The solution cannot contain more than six or seven per cent., and it may be added to water until the latter smells strongly. This may readily and with perfect safety be applied with a sponge.

The Kind of Girl for the West.

The champion of the period lives out on the Muck. From April 1 to June 1 this year she planted three acres of potatoes, did all the cooking and sewing for the family, milked four cows, fed the calves, pigs and chickens, shot three chicken hawks and a wildcat, set the dog on eighteen tramps, attended thirteen dances and three picnics, read five dime novels and set up four nights in the week with her beau.—Tacoma Union.

—Sunday evening about six o'clock while Billy Thomas and Ed. Schofield were driving down the back road toward the nail works, their horse frightened and ran away. Schofield jumped out but Billy stuck to the rig until across on the pike when he was thrown out. Neither of the young men were much hurt, but the cart was badly dilapidated. The horse ran till it got tired then stopped just north of the lime kilns on the pike.

—On Saturday afternoon James Moore, of Buffalo Run, got into an altercation with a Milesburg individual and the result was blows were exchanged. Both parties were arrested and an examination showed that Moore had sustained a broken nose in the encounter. He was taken to jail but afterwards released and taken by friends to his home. The other individual spent a brief time in the lockup.

—Remember that the Methodist brethren of Colevillo will hold a festival in their chapel on Friday and Saturday evenings, July 27th and 28th. Ice cream, cake, etc., will be served and every body is cordially invited to be present.

DEATH OF H. P. HANSOM.

After an Illness Since Last Fall He Dies Tuesday Evening.

Another aged resident of Altoona has gone to join the great majority in the world beyond in the person of H. P. Hansom, whose death occurred at 4.40 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, at the home of his stepson W. S. Counsil, 2106 Second avenue, with whom he had resided for the past five years. Death was caused by catarrah of the stomach, with which he had been ailing since last fall and which confined him to bed for the past two months. During the last week of his illness he was delirious.

Mr. Hansom was nearly 70 years of age, having been born in Germany on Oct 19, 1824. He came to America after he had grown to manhood and first located at Flemington, Pa, where he carried on the lumber business, but afterwards removed to Howard, where he worked at his trade as a blacksmith. Five years ago he came to Altoona, which has been his home ever since.

Some thirty-three years ago the deceased was married to Margaret Counsil, at Beech Creek, There were no children born to them. Mrs. Hansom died eleven years ago. The deceased is survived by four step sons, as follows: W. S. and George W. Counsil, of Altoona, and Martin and Quigle Counsil, of DuBois.

Mr. Hansom had been raised a German Lutheran, but he was not connected with any congregation at the time of death.

A short funeral service will be conducted at the house at 5 o'clock this evening. They will be conducted by Rev. J. W. Olewine in lieu of Rev J. Ellis Bell, who is absent from the city. On mail express this evening the remains will be taken to Howard and tomorrow morning, after funeral services at that place, they will be interred.

Halt Lawless Emigrants.

Our government has been strangely remiss in its duty to the people to protect them against lawless and pauper emigrants. While we have levied enormous taxes ostensibly for the protection of American labor, we have permitted open free trade in pauper laborers, and the slums of the Old World have vomited out their Anarchists, their paupers and their ignorant hordes upon us until our industries have been generally disturbed and the peace of the nation seriously threstened.

The time has come when this emigration must be stopped, and it must be done by no half-way measure. Not only must the Anarchists and the pauper be halted from gaining our shores, but some method must be found by which they can be sent back to their own countries when they exhibit their lawless or vagahond tendency in our midst. In addition to these precautionary measures, our naturalization laws should be so amended that no man can be naturalized unless it shall be shown to the satisfaction of the Court that he understands our free institutions and will become a law abiding citizen.

The House has just passed Representative Stone's bill providing for the inspection of emigrants in their own countries, and requiring the certificate of the American Consul, before they can be permitted to land. We are not familiar with the details of this measure, but it certainly seems to strike at the very root of the evil, and the Senate should act upon it before the close of the present session. If the bill needs amendment in any particular to increase its efficiency, let it be done, but do not permit Congress to adjourn without enacting a law that will surely stop the influx of Anarchists and paupers and criminals from the Old World.

We have a striking illustration of the insolence of foreign Anarchists in the action of Charles Wilfred Mowbray, a blatant English Communist, who has just arrived in this country and who has already filed his preliminary papers for naturalization as an American citizen. He openly justifies the assassination of President Carnot, of France, and proposes to begin a crusade in behalf of anarchy in this country under the protection of his application for American citizenship. There should be ample law in this land to arrest this fellow at once and banish him from the country forever. We have tolerated such agitators until half the States of the Union are compelled to employ their military at times to preserve the lives and property of citizens. The foreign Anarchist, the pauper and the criminal must stay at home, and those already here must be summarily and sternly taught obedience to the law. Let Congress promptly act to halt criminal and pauper emigration.

For Increase of Debt.

On Saturday, the 28th inst., the citizens of Clearfield will have an opportunity to decide whether they want protection from floods. The amount of increase of debt asked is put $3,500. It is a great deal less than the value of property destroyed by a flood such as they had last May or in 1889.

What is Personal Property.

According to the highest authorities and decisions, property in Pennsylvania is classed under three heads—property of a purely personal character called "goods and chattels;" property which savors of realty called "chattels real," an evidence of indebtedness, which are called "rights and credits." As it is often difficult to determine whether things found on the premises in case of death are real or personal estate, it is interesting to know just what the courts in this State have decided are personal property. They are:

"Purchase money due on a contract for the sale of land, renewable leases and good will of a place of business, the interest of a lessee in an unexpired term, standing timber bought with the intent of immediate removal, fallen timber, gas fixtures, chandeliers and gas pipes attached to a residence, machinery set up with the understanding that it may be removed, growing crops with reserved at an Orphans Court sale, the way going crop of a farm tenant, growing crops on devised lands, vested legacies and distributive shares due the decedent, land devised to be sold without limitation, rents accruing on a perpetual lease for minerals in the land, the periodical interest coming to a widow on a recognization in partition the income due a tenant for life or for the life of another and arrearages of ground rent."

There are, of course, many other things, but this list will indicate that "personal property" means more than many people think it means, and is rather a broad and comprehensive term.—Phila. Times.

At the meeting of the state teachers' association in Media, Prof. Rothrock, of West Chester, read an interesting paper on Forestry. It said: "This is the first generation called upon to consider a tree. Five years ago the legislature of our state declined even to consider the subject of forestry as a question at all. The bill was killed in the committee. At the time of the Centennial no exhibition of forestery worth speaking of was made, while a whole building was required to contain the exhibits at the World's Fair in Chicago. In less than thirty years we have cleared off seventy five per cent. of our timber. I saw 450 square miles of this state burned over, and there was twice as much that I did not see that was burned. As laws now stand, we are actually paying a premium upon the destruction of timber. I have known a man to buy timber land, cut off the timber and let the land be sold for taxes. The state should acquire land. All land sold for taxes should be bought by the state. Such could be brought for $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50 per acre that would soon be worth $10 per acre. Other states own land, and this should follow their example.

Miners Hope for the Best.

Houtzdale, Pa., July 24.—At the mass meeting of the miners formerly employed bp the Berwind-White Coal Mining company on Sunday, a committee was elected to go to Philadelphia on Monday and meet Mr. E. J. Berwind as the representative of the company. The bulletin board was anxiously watched all day Monday by the miners. About 4 p. m. the following telegram was posted up:

Berwind will pay the 40 cent basis and extra for all coal under three feet. Can do nothing better.

[Signed] WILLIAM TODHUNTER,

This depressed the spirits of the expectant miners considerably, but they still express the determination not to accept this but to fight to the end. The company has erected barracks at Eureka No 7, and deputies and blacklegs are hourly expected.

Pension Clerks Discharged.

Washington, July 24.—The big discharge of 150 clerks from the Record and Pension office of the War Department, which has been so frequently predicted in the past two months, will finally take place tomorrow, the unfortunate employes having received their notice this morning. The authoritative explanation regarding this discharge is that the legislative appropriation bill provided for a reduction of 400 clerks in the Record and Pension office, leaving about 400 to continue the work which has naturally been much reduced.

A Dynamite Outrage.

Uniontown, July 23.—The house of James Vaugh, a non-union workman at the Mahoning plant of the Cambria Company, was almost torn to pieces by a dynamite bomb early this morning. The dynamite was placed under the window of his bedroom. The explosion tore away a second of the side of the house and overturned the bed in which Vaugh and his wife were sleeping. Vaugh had been threatened by the strikers. A big meeting of strikers is in progress to day. Several thousand were in line.

MANY STRIKERS INDICTED.

Charged With Delaying United States Mails.

Chicago, July 19.—The drag net of the federal law was cast into the waters today and when the ropes were drawn taut and and it was pulled ashore, it was found to contain no less than twenty-nine indictments charging offences against the interstate commerce act and the laws relating to the transportation of the United States mails against forty-three individuals.

The grand jury announced at 4 o'clock this afternoon that it had concluded its labors, and the foreman handed to Judge Seaman a batch of manuscript two feet high, which, it was said, contained indictments for everybody connected with the railroad strike in this district.

The court fixed the bail on each of the indictments in the sum of $10,000 against each and every individual concerned. No warrants of arrests were issued this evening and District Attorney Nilchrist and his associates manifested an unusual reticence regarding the identity of the parties indicted. The clerks were instructed that the indictments should not be made a matter of record until the morning with the understanding that at 8 o'clock or soon thereafter warrants would be issued and entrusted to deputy marshals for immediate service. It is stated on good authority that not only were there accumulative indictments against President Debs, Vice President Howard, Secretary Kelliher and Editor Rodgers of the Railway Journal, but that every other member of the board of directors had been scooped in and would be put on trial.

It was also hinted that organizer Phelan who was on Monday committed by Judge Taft, of Cincinnati, for contempt of court, was among those against whom the indictments had been found. In one indictment and which, so it was stated in the district attorney's office, is one of the strongest yet found, no less than nineteen defendants are named. Several of the directors of the railroad union have lectured during the past week to organize lodges east and west, but they are equally liable to arrest as though they remained within this jurisdiction.

Statement by Lamont.

Washington, July 19. Secretary Lamont to-night made the following statement concerning the situation at Chicago and the removal of troops: "The federal troops having accomplished the purposes for which they were ordered to Chicago, they have been withdrawn from the city proper. With the exception of the infantry sent from Sackett's Harbor, all of the troops recently concentrated at Chicago, including the artillery and cavalry from Forts Riley and Niobrara, have been ordered to take station at Fort Sheridan for the summer. This will put a very much larger garrison at that point ready for service than when the troops were called into action. They were withdrawn on the assurance of the local authorities responsible for the peace of the city, that the situation was completely under control and that the laws could be enforced and order preserved without the further employment of the federal troops.

"While there is no reason to believe that their services will again be required, should such a contingency arise they are but two hours from any part of the city and can be easily and quickly called to the scene of disturbance.

Miners Despondent.

Houtzdale, Pa., July 19.—The miners in this region are becoming somewhat despondent. The outlook at present is very gloomy indeed. Hundreds of the miners who heretofore have been most enthusiastic and hopeful are now fearing lest the termination of the strike will be unfavorable to them.

The commissary department, although it has done good work, is insufficient to supply the demands made upon it, and some of the miners are in a deplorable condition.

After the meeting at Ramey on Monday afternoon, many of the miners criticized and censured the action of the national board and accused them of allowing themselves to be bribed.

Some of them are afraid they will eventually have to go in at 40 cents and that the companies now paying 45 cents will make a corresponding reduction.

Getting Ready for an Indian War.

Oklahoma, O. T. July 19.—Reports of serious trouble between the Indians and the settlers in the Cheyenne and Arapahoe country are brought in by a cowboy. A rising of the Indians is momentarily expected, and the ranchmen are preparing for a conflict. The trouble hae been brewing since April last, when two Indians and a white man were killed in an affray which arose over the question of the right to certain lands. The seat of the present trouble is Red Moon, a hamlet in Mills county, and the dissatisfaction extends to all the Indians in Grand and Washita counties. It is a sparsely settled region in the western part of Oklahoma and is the wildest in the territory.

Baptist Young People Meet.

Toronto, Ontario, July 19.—The fourth annual international convention of the Baptist Young People's Union of America opened here this morning with some 4,000 delegates in attendance. President John A. Chapman, of Chicago, took the chair promptly at half past 10 o'clock and delivered his opening address.

D. E. Thompson extended a welcome on the part of the Young People's societies of Toronto, and Rev. Elmore Harris did the same on the part of the Baptist churches of the city. Rev. W. Whitman, of Colby university, Maine, replied in an address full of eloquence and humor, which put the great audience at once at ease. He spoke, he said, as one born under a British flag, but who had lived under the stars and stripes together part of his life. Rev. Williams, the secretary, read the annual report which was chiefly taken up with a statement of new by-laws. Two interesting addresses were given in moving and seconding the report Henry C. Vedder editor of the Examiner, of New York city, and Rev. Charles A. Reese, of Minnesota.

The morning session closed with a vote of thanks to the people of Toronto for the welcome extended today.

Bad State of Affairs.

Philadelphia, July 22.—A special to the Record from Connellsville says: "Never in the history of Pennsylvania strikes has there been presented a more startling condition of affairs than the one which now confronts the entire coke region. Thousands of foreigners brought over in droves only two or three years ago to take strikers' places, are now victims of eviction, sleeping in the open fields. They are nearly all well armed, either with Winchester rifles or revolvers.

These conditions, especially among the Slavs, were strikingly brought out and emphasized at the meeting of striking cokers here yesterday. Many who actually have not had for many weeks money enough to by sufficient food for their families, and had the best of guns. In one delegation from the south end of the region every man carried a Winchester.

These armed strikers have two companies who have been drilling for a week. Their officers say that within a couple of weeks there will be a regiment of Slavs, fully armed and equipped in the coke regions, and ready to march at a moment's notice.

Many of the strikers, who have to day severely felt the effect of the damp cold wave, while living with the families in open fields, would gladly return to work, if they could but the most of them have not only been evicted, but blacklisted for acts of violence during the strike.

Won By Zimmerman.

Paris, July 22.—The contest for the Baden prize was the principal event in the bicycle tournament at the Vellodrome De Lo Seine. A. A. Zimmerman led throughout the first heat of 2,000 metres and won it without an effort. He won the final heat of 1,000 metres with equal ease and carried off the prize. Harry Wheeler was second, Medinger third.

In the one mile handicap Zimmerman rode from the scratch, Harry Wheeler, Barden, Jacquelin and others had thirty meters start, Banker, Farman and others fifty meters start. The rest of the contestants were strung out from sixty to 100 meters in advance of the American champion.

It was a big field, but Zimmerman over took all in the first lap, riding at a pace which brought round after round of applause and cheers from the spectators. The inferior riders were in a bunch, and Zimmerman found it impossible to make his way through the throng in the next lap, but eventually he got away, and spun around the track amid demonstrations of wild enthusiasm on every side. He finished five lengths ahead of Jacquelin, who was second. Mercer, who had ninety metres start, was third. Zimmerman's performance was one of the finest pieces of riding ever seen in this city.

Strikers Go To Jail.

Santa Fe N. M., July.—The fourteen strikers arrested at Baton two weeks ago for contempt of court, have been found guilty by Judge Seeds and sentenced to terms varying from fifteen to fifty days in jail. Judge Seeds also issued an order approving the actions of the receivers of the San Fe road in discharging employes and in filling their places with new men and ordered further that all the employes of the road in New Mexico who may hereafter fail to perform their usual duties shall be deemed as having voluntarily quit the campany's service and that the new men employed in the places of those men shall be kept in the service as long as they are competent and perform their duties satisfactorily, and that no persons who have been guilty of contempt of court in these cases or who may hereafter interfere with the operations of the road in any manner shall be reemployed by the receivers.

Half a Million Up in Smoke.

Birmingham, Ala., July 32.—Half a million dollars' worth of property went up in smoke early this morning, among the buildings destroyed being the great Caldwell hotel. The fire started about midnight in Stower's furniture factory and spread with great rapidity. At one time the outlook was so threatening that aid was asked from Montgomery. All the guests escaped from the hotel.

The principal losses, with insurance, were Caldwell hotel, loss $360,000, insurance $210,000; Perry-Merion Shoe Company, loss $300,000, insurance $150,000; Stow furniture factory, loss $75,000, insurance $50,000.

FIVE MINERS KILLED.

A Terrible Accident at Williamstown Yesterday Afternoon.

Pine Grove, Pa., July 19.—A fearful accident took place in the mines at Williamstown, several miles from here, this evening just as the miners were being hoisted out of the colliery. A number were in the wagon, which had just started when the pulley underneath failed to work and they were crushed against the top rock, five being instantly killed. Terrible scenes were witnessed until the bodies were gotten out. The killed were John Raudenbush, John L. Llewllyn, M. A. Tate, William Clark and Charles Woodman.

All live at Williamstown, are married and have children. Their bodies are horribly mangled and the affair created much excitement. The coroner will hold an inquest tomorrow.

Five men were standing on the bumper of the wagon and were crushed to death. In nearly all cases death was instantaneous and their bodies were horribly mangled.

When the collision took place the wagon crashed against the solid rock with fearful force and the men were caught in the death trap unable to get away. Men were above and below, but unable to help the unfortunates. Relief was quickly sent for, but when the wagon was dislodged they were beyond human aid. The accident is generally regarded as entirely unavoidable.

Williamstown being located in an out of the way district, the minor detail as to how the accident happened are necessarily meagre, but the men met their death without a chance to save themselves.

It is believed from the accounts athand that the affair occurred at the bottom of the mine, and it is learned that the men were thrown against the solid wall of coal with all the force that powerful machinery could give, while the wagon on which they were standing pressed on them, crushing the life out of them.

Nearly a Million Pounds.

Baggagemaster F. A. Harris in his correspondence in the Harrisburg Patriot, says:

For the two weeks ending July 18, there was handled at Tyrone station 3,676 pieces of checked baggage; 1,400 of these are credited to main line, 1,075 for branch roads and 601 pieces of local. Of these 3,076 pieces 2,005 of them were handled twice, making a grand total number of pieces handled at Tyrone 5,081 in two weeks. It is the hardest station to work between Philadelphia and Pittsburg, for there is no time on main line allowed on schedules for loading or unloading baggage. This kind of weather, handling great quantities of baggage, many pieces weighing from 200 to 250 pounds, is very exhausting on human nature, yet the boys stick to it like wax and seldom complain.

Women and Their Wages.

In order to ascertain what wages women receive in this state for their work and whether their condition can be improved, the bureau of industrial statistics is sending circulars to all female employes in the state. The circulars seek information on these points: Occupation, nationality, weekly board paid, weekly wages earned and how paid, compensation as compared with that of man for the same work, hours of labor, if paid for time lost by sickness, annual vacation, how long, and if paid for the time.

Bellefonte Central Wrecked

On Saturday as the Bellefonte Central train was at the switch just this side of the freight station, as it was backing up to the passenger depot, it ran off the track, causing considerable excitement and consternation among the passengers. Fortunately, there was no one injured and no damage done to the train. Three cars and the tender were off. The accident was occasioned by a much worn switch rail. It took about one hour's time to put the train on the track again.

Must Renew License.

Circulars have been issued by Secretary Edge, of the state board of agriculture, to all manufacturers of fertilizers notifying them that the license to sell in this state will expire on July 31, and must be renewed, the board furnishing blanks. Attention is called to the penalties neglecting this matter. The manufacturers will also be required to fill out a circular to which they must take oath, stating the exact ingredients and composition of their fertilizers. These affidavits are published by the board. Thirty-five thousand copies will be issued this year. Each manufacturer must pay his license and the money thus turned in is used in employing state agents who go around and analyze the fertilizers. If the analysis corresponds with the affidavit, public announcement is made of the fact. If the affidavit is "doctored" the manufacturer is fined and exposed.

A Barrel of Suits.

Mr. M. C. Lingenfelter, who has been conducting a saw mill in Sinking Valley for some time, has gotten himself into a peck of trouble. Owing to these hard times he became in arrears in his payments to his men, and on Saturday evening thirty-two suits before 'Squire Smith and a number before 'Squire Taylor were entered against him. Hearings in fourteen cases were heard before 'Squire Smith on Thursday afternoon and the balance were postponed until Tuesday next. The claims vary from $3 to $140.

Short and to the Point.

Abraham Lincoln's first speech on the tariff question was short and to the point. He said he did not pretend to be learned in political economy, but thought he knew enough to know that "when an American paid twenty dollars for steel to an English manufacturer, America had the steel and England had the twenty dollars. But when he paid twenty dollars for steel to an American manufacturer, America had both the steel and the twenty dollars." That was the sum and substance of the tariff question as he viewed it.

—When a man is through with his day's work and is sitting down resting in his home, he cannot read the advertisements on the fences and the hand bills and circulars that were left on his door step during the day have been blown away or destroyed. He calls for the paper and there he finds the merchant's announcement, and with nothing to bother him he reads it carefully, and then calls his wife's attention to it, and they decide to go to the merchant's store and examine what is advertised.

The Road Hog.

A bicycle rider ran into a farmer's buggy in Erie county a few days ago and in the words that ensued called the farmer a "road hog." A short time afterward the farmer came up to where the bicycle man was having his wheel fixed and, jumping out of the buggy, made an attack on him. The result was that the farmer was struck over the head with an iron bar and will die, and the other man is in the Erie jail.

Killed at Warrior Ridge.

The body of a young man about 20 years old, with gray eyes, dark brown hair, light complexion, weight about 125 pounds and dressed in a gray suit, with pink shirt and tan colored shoes, was found by Watchman Amon Park, near Warrior Ridge station, on Wednesday night. He had been killed by the cars. The remains were taken to Huntingdon and placed in the dead house, where they awaited identification.

New Officers Elected.

The line officers of the Fifth regiment met at the Logan House, Altoona, in pursuance of an order issued for the purpose of electing a lieutenant colonel of the regiment and incidentallly filling any vacancy that might be caused in the line officers by reason of this election.

Colonel Burchfield conducted the election and almost all of the line officers were present. For the office of lieutenant colonel Major R. C. Elder, of Lewistown, and Lieutenant Colonel Amos Mullin were placed in nomination, and Major Elder was elected to the position on the first ballot.

Captains West and Bare were appointed a committee to escort the newly elected lieutenant colonel to the room, which duty being performed he was informed of his promotion and asked whether he accepted. He replied in the affirmative and then, in response to a call returned his thanks in a brief but neat and appropriate speech.

The promotion of Major Elder caused a vacancy in the line of majors and Captains Robert C. McNamara, of Bedford and W. F. Reber, of Bellefonte, were placed in nomination. The first ballot did not result in a choice being made, but on the second ballot Captain McNamara received a majority of the votes cast and was therefore declared elected. On motion the election of Captain McNamara was made unanimous, and being called upon he returned his thanks for the honor conferred.

Colonel Burchfield then swore the two newly elected officers into the service of the state, thus confirming them in their new positions.

The meeting then resolved itself into one of general discussion for the good of the regiment and instruction in regard to the coming division encampment at Gettysburg were given by the colonel to the members of his military household. These matters being attended to the meeting adjourned, all the officers expressing themselves as heartily pleased with the result of their labors.

Romola Ramblings.

Our two young men who are studying law at Howard seem to be deeply interested. We wish them success.

Our new blacksmith is kept busy all the time. The reason of this is because his work is first class and his charges are reasonable. May he have the same run of patronage in the future, as Will is a good fellow and he deserves it.

—The ninth annual reunion of the Lutherans of Blair and adjacent counties, under the auspices of the northeast conference of the Allegheny synod, will be held at Martinsburg, Pa., Thursday, August 16. A program embracing practical topics of a wide range of thought, with able speakers, has been arranged. Excursion rates from all points in the territory of the union have been secured. The Lutheran people of Martinsburg will furnish an excellent dinner for 25 cents, the proceeds of which will be devoted to the new church now in course of erection.

Foster's Weather Predictions.

My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm waves to cross the continent from the 18th to 22d and 24th to 28th. The next will reach the Pacific coast about the 28th, cross the western mountains by the close of the 29th, the great central valleys from the 30th to Aug. 1, and the eastern states about Aug. 2. While this disturbance is crossing the continent, severe earthquakes will probably occur in earthquake countries. The warm wave will cross the western mountains about the 28th, the great central valleys about the 2d of Aug. and the eastern states about Aug. 4. The last week in July will be excessively hot, and a general deficiency of rainfall may be expected.

VIGOROUS HEALTH for MEN

Prof. HARRIS' SOLUBLE MEDICATED Pastille

THE PASTILLE CURE TRADE MARK FOR NERVOUS DEBILITY

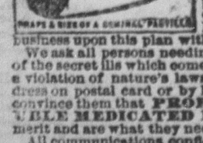
Has been put up in a proprietary form since 1878, and has been used for years prior to that time in private practice. It is no untried nostrum, of doubtful reputation, but a genuine specific for a very prevalent disease. Thousands of men, of all ages, owe to some time in life brought on nervous debility and exhaustion, with organic weakness, by over brain work, excesses, too frequent indulgence or indiscretion and vicious habits, and it is to these that we offer a remedy that will, by its direct action upon the seat of the disease, stop the drain and restore the patient to vigorous health and strength.

Our method of introducing Prof. Harris' Pastille treatment is one which commends itself to all sensible persons—for the reason that we supply it upon their judgment of its value. We ask of our patrons nothing in the way of expense beyond a postal card and a two cent postage stamp. The postal card to be used in sending us their full address and the postage stamp for the letter returning the statement of their case for which we supply them with a question blank, to be filled out, and an envelope addressed to ourselves for use in returning it when filled.

FREE TRIAL PACKAGE.

When we receive the statement on blank we prepare eight days' treatment and forward it by mail and prepay postage thereon—and along with the eight days' treatment we send full directions for using. The treatment in no way interferes with a person's attention to business, and causes no pain or inconvenience in any way.

We are so positive that it will give perfect satisfaction that we leave the matter of sending orders entirely with those using the free trial treatment. Having satisfied those sending for trial packages of our ability to benefit their sexual condition we feel that they are more largely interested than ourselves in continuing the use of the Pastilles. Even then we do not attempt to rob them by demanding high prices. On the contrary, we make the prices as low as possible, and the same to all. They are as follows: $3 for one month; $5 for two months; $7 for three months.



These prices secure the delivery of the Pastilles by mail. If desired by express we leave the patient to pay the charges. For over ten years we have operated our business upon this plan with satisfactory results.

We ask all persons needing treatment for any of the secret ills which come to mankind through a violation of nature's laws to send us their address on postal card or by letter and allow us to convince them that PROF. HARRIS' SOLUBLE MEDICATED PASTILLES have merit and are what they need.

All communications confidential and should be addressed to Buckwheat.

This being the season of the year when farmers are engaged in getting out their crop of that triangular cereal known as buckwheat, is probably an appropriate time for looking up the pedigree of those delicious griddle cakes that go first rate on a brisk winter morning.

The grain is supposed to be a native of Asia, and the scientists, to whom a rose would not smell so sweet if called by any other than a Latin name, have christened it polygonum fagopyrum. They have graciously allowed the laity, however to call it by any name they choose, and most of us will choose to refer to it generally as our fathers did—as buckwheat.

As it is well known, buckwheat will flourish on a soil too poor to raise anything else unless, perhaps, the farmer's irascibility when he contemplates it, and produces some sixty and eighty-fold. The stalks, by their rapid growth, smother out weeds and leaves the ground clean for the next year. The blossoms furnish food for the bees; and "buckwheat honey," while not equal to that made from clover, is infinitely superior to the "genuine" article put up in a factory, and which never was acquainted with a bee.

The crowning glory of the grain, however, is its seed, which, when ground, is used in some parts of Europe to make bread, but in this country only in the manufacture of the "Buckwheat cake," so dear to every true Yankee palate. As a winter breakfast dish, warm, with country butter and maple syrup, they are delicious, and diamond-black terrapin and green turtle soup are not to be mentioned in the same day. The humid condition of the visionary organs of "Susannah," who is reported in an old song to have been observed when "a buckwheat cake was in her mouth and a tear was in her eye," can be explained only on the hypothesis that the cake in her mouth was the last one and hadn't been preceded by a sufficient number.

May the shadow of the buckwhat never grow less.

Nearing The Grave.

In old age infirmities and weakness hasten to close the gap between us and the grave. Happily scientific research and pharmacol skill have allied themselves in furnishing us a reliable means of ameliorating the ailments incident to declining years, and of renewing waning physical energy. Its name is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a widely comprehensive remedy in disease, and an inestimable blessing to the elderly, the feeble and the convalescent. Rheumatic ailments, trouble with the kidneys and lumbago are among the more common ailments of the aged. These are effectually counteracted by the Bitters, which is likewise a prevention and curative of malarial complaints, dyspepsia, constipation and biliousness. It is highly promotive of appetite, sleep and the acquisition of vigor.

AN illustration of the hold Populism has obtained in some states in the west and southwest will be given today in Little Rock, Ark., when the Populist state convention meets. It will be one of the largest political state conventions that ever met in this country, and it may be the largest. The party made preparation some time ago to attend it almost en masse. Many started ten days ago on foot, according to the Coxey plan of marching on Washington, trusting to the hospitality of brother populists on the way, while others took advantage of excursions at cheap rates. The result will be a heterogeneous crowd at Little Rock today, when the delegate system will be discarded and a political convention turned into a large picnic. The only strange thing about the affair is its uselessness. The Arkansas Democratic state convention, which met a few days ago, hissed Cleveland, adopted a free silver plank and virtually put itself on a Populist platform. Why there is any need of repeating the affair it will trouble a good many to tell.

Put them to Work.

The United States Court cannot avoid imprisoning President Debs, Vice President Howard, and other officials of the American Railway Union who have openly defied the injunctions of the Court by ordering their followers to disobey the law. They voluntarily went to jail on Saturday rather than enter the moderate bail demanded by the Judge, doubtless expecting to pose as martyrs; but before they shall be through with their battle against the majesty of the law they will learn that all people of every condition of life must be submissive to the orders of the Court.

It is not possible for Debs and his associates to escape imprisonment for contempt, but they will care little for imprisonment if they can have a life of ease and keep up their agitation as labor martyrs. The one thing to do in punishment for their open contempt of the authority of the United States Court, is to put Debs and his lawless associates to hard work.

No greater punishment could be inflicted upon these demagogic labor agitators than to require them to work. They live in luxury at the expense of there deluded followers, and create labor disturbances without excuse simply to magnify their own importance and assure a continued livelihood. If they were compelled to earn an honest dollar before they could have an honest meal, they would be the most miserable of all our so-called workingmen; and if it is within the power of the Court to sentence them to hard labor, it certainly should be done. Let them have a chance to know what it is to do honest work.

Fatal Storm in the Cove.

Under date of Friday, July 20, the Altoona TRIBUNE's Martinsburg correspondent sends the following:

Quite an electric storm, accompanied with a nice downfall of rain, passed this way this afternoon, gladdening the farmer and gardener and refreshing drooping vegetation wonderfully. The only damage done to us was the knocking of a few bricks from the chimney of the house owned by Ed. May and occupied as a tenant by Harry Bowers.

By telephone from Woodbury was learned that a barn near the mill of John S. Replogle, on the farm of a Mr. Grabill and occupied by a Mr. Noel as tenant, was struck by lightning and burned down with all its contents. Two men Mr. Noel and a man unknown and a boy in the barn. The men were killed and perished in the flames. The boy was only shocked and made his escape.

Use of a Large Sponge.

A large sponge hung in the room at night or in the daytime, if it can be behind a convenient screen and kept constantly wet, will greatly assist in keeping a room cool, or a wet cloth hung in the window over the blind will cool the room as if a shower had fallen. All know how fresh water sprinkled on the pavement in front of all the windows and doors will refresh the hot dry air.

Destructive Storm at Morrisdale.

A special from Morrisdale Mines says that a destructive storm visited that place between 4 and 5 o'clock on Friday afternoon. Rain fell in torrents. Lightning struck the barn of Silas McAllister, and burned it to the ground, together with a valuable horse and three tons of hay. The flames spread to the barn of George Baces and destroyed it. Loss $1,200.

What it Cost the State.

Warrants were issued from the adjutant general's department on Thursday to pay the troops for their trip to Punxsutawney. The aggregate sum is $22,563,56. This is what it cost the state to quell the disturbance at that place.

Part of Turnpike Sold.

A part of the turnpike leading from Millheim to Nittany valley, as far as the top of the mountain above Madisonburg, has been sold to Elijah Burd, of Aaronsburg for $6,000.

—Mr. E. C. Humes has had the rear part of his residence beautified with a coat of handsome red paint. Mr. Thomas H. Rhoads did the job and did it right, too.

The Labor Commission.

The Labor Commission to be appointed by the President cannot arbitrate; it can only investigate and report. There will be nothing to arbitrate when it gets to work; the strike will be over and the difficulties settled; but if the trouble were still unadjusted the Commission could not act. Its function is limited, It can only inquire.

Nevertheless, it is well that the Commission is to be appointed. The President acted with discretion in assenting to the suggestion. It was no relaxation of the firm attitude he held towards the insurrection against the laws and authority of the United States. He insisted that violence must cease and resistance must end. First of all, the majesty of the law must be vindicated and all hostility must be quelled. Then the President was willing to exercise his authority under the law to appoint a Commission, and if he acts with the same discretion in making his selections it will exercise a wholesome influence.

It is true that the essential facts are well understood, and the Commission can probably add very little to them. It is true, too, that even its power of investigation is tecnhicaliy limited to that phase of the difficulty and the strike which effected inter state commerce. Under this construction it cannot investigate the Pullman strike where alone there was any allegation of a grievance, and is restricted to the railroad strike which was not based upon any complaint, but was purely a sympathy strike.

But if judicious men are associated with the Commissioner of Labor, Mr. Carroll D. Wright, who himself inspires confidence their inquiry will develop facts and suggestions of value. Above all, the appointment will show that while the Government is firm in dealing with lawlessness, it means to be fair to labor.

May be Transferred to Bellefonte

Saturday's Lock Haven papers stated that this would be the last week for the life of the famous base ball club of that place, as the patronage there does not afford money enough to meet the running expenses. An effort is now to be made by those interested in the club to have the same transferred to Bellefonte, and second baseman Reed is expected in Bellefonte this evening to see what can be done. Although it is now a little late in the season, Bellefonte might take the club and give the local cranks a few games, ere the close of the sporting period.

COST OF THE GREAT STRIKE.

Taxpayers at Large Will Have to Foot a Large Bill.

Washington, July, 23.—While residents of Cook county, Ill., will, without doubt, suffer an enormous loss as a result of the disorder and lawlessness attending the great strike, the taxpayers of the United States at large will also have a considerable bill to foot to meet the expenses incurred by the national government. That this will be large there is no doubt, but at present it is not possible for the accounting officer to reach even an approximate estimate of the total.

July 14 the attorney general sent to congress a communication asking for a deficiency in appropriation of $250,000, to defray the expense of retaining United States marshals and deputies for service during the Coxey movement and the strike.

Now he is satisfied that all this money and more, perhaps, will be required to meet expenses. A large number of deputies were employed, and in many instances it was necessary to feed and sleep the men at the government's expense. Arms and ammunition were purchased, carriages and horses were hired, and railway fares were paid.

The war department also has been put to a great expense, but just how much will not be known until the quarterly and special returns come to Washington. The troops carried with them rations which otherwise they would have eaten at their barracks and, therefore, there is no additional expense on that score. And the principal item of expenditure will be under the head of transportation. In some cases, the railroad companies will probably present no bills, especially where the troops were employed in the protection of their own lines, but in others, where the troops were hauled half way across the continent, the bills will be heavy.

The limited annual appropriation for the transportation of troops was at low ebb when the strike occurred, and, in consequence of these extradordinary expenses, the war department has had to forego altogether its practice of transferring troops from one station to another, and, therefore, much hardship will result to the troops stationed at posts in the extreme south and in the Indian county, who had reasonably expected to be transferred to less arduous service after serving their term.

Three Persons Killed.

Cleveland, July 23.—There was a head end collision on the Cleveland, Cincinnati Chicago and St. Louis railway at Griffith station, ten miles west of here, this morning. Three were killed and two fatally injured. The express, due at 7., was on time, but the St. Louis express, which runs fifteen minutes ahead of the Chicago incoming train, was an hour late. At Griffith's a light engine was running down to the gravel bank in charge of Engineer Hart, He forgot his orders. Knowing that the St. Louis express was late, he pulled out and was met by the Chicago express.

Hart will die, probably without being able to tell what he took the order to be. His fireman, Frank Taylor, of Indianapolis, was killed outright, also Charles Sherman and another tramp who was stealing a ride. There were ten reported injured, none fatally, except Engineer Hart.

The passenger cars of the Chicago express were damaged, but no passenger was seriously injured. The two tramps were stealing their way on the posta cars.

A Mass Meeting To-day.

Philipsburg, Pa., July 23.—The committee representing the Berwind-White Coal Mining Company employes met the manager in Philadelphia this afternoon. The result of the interview was wired the local miners' officials at Houtzdale this evening, and a call was at once issued for a mass meeting to-morrow afternoon. The officials will not say whether the compromise price was offered or not, but it is believed the conpany refused to make any concessions on the mining rate offered.

The hearing of the eight persons charged with rioting at the Webster mine, near Houtzdale, has been postponed until Tuesday week.

Thrashed a Man Twice His Size.

The other day a small, harmless looking man on a New York street car, and accidentally trod on the toes of a big six-footer. He apologized, but the six-footer wasn't satisfied. He talked for some time, and finally invited the little man to leave the car and settle the matter on the sidewalk. Greatly to his astonishment, the latter accepted. Those who witnessed the contest say that it didn't last long, but that the big fellow had to be carried home in an ambulance, while his diminutive antagonist walked away with a cheerful smile. And so it is with Dr Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They're not half as big as most of their rivals, but they do their work quietly and thoroughly. For sick headache, biliousness, constipation, dyspepsia, etc., there is nothing like them. They are the only Liver Pills absolutely sold on trial! Your money back if they don't give satisfaction!

Wallace Burt's Execution.

Doylestown, July 23.—The scaffold on which Burt, the murderer of the Righteleys, will be executed on Thursday, is being put up to-day. It reached here from Mauch Chunk last Saturday. The rope and cap will come from Philadelphia.

An additional watch has been placed on Burt, for fear that he should attempt his own life and cheat the gallows. He has assumed a serious vein of late and he passes his time meditating silently.

When Burt was arrested for the murder of the aged couple, it was thought that he had an accomplice in the brutal act, but if his statements within the past few days are to be believed, the half-breed Indian was alone responsible for the butchery. He declines to give any of the particulars concerning the killing and says he will die without letting the world know the details of the horrible crime.

The execution will probably take place before noon.

Had To Use A Revolver.

Altoona, Pa., July 23.—Six boiler makers, who have been employed building an iron gas holder in this city, engaged in a free fight here to night, and when Policeman Burkhart attempted to arrest them they all turned upon him. When it seemed as though they would take his life he drew his revolver and shot one of the party just under the heart, causing a wound which at the hospital was pronounce dangerous. The officer had a cut two and a half inches in length on top of his head, and bears the marks of kicks all over his body.

Three of the rioters have been placed under arrest. They claim to belong to Chicago.

Non-union Men Join Strikers.

Houtzdale, July 23.—On Friday morning the quiet town of Osceola Mills was visited by a mob of strikers from other towns and a serious riot was narrowly averted. The miners began their march to the mines at midnight, and with their band, went to the boarding house where the non-union men were quartered. They then proceeded to make prisoners of the men and marched them back to town, where as the men had said they were brought under false pretense. The miners asked Mr. Liveright, the operator, to pay the fares of the men back to their homes. This Mr. Liveright blankly refused to do, and then the men who had been brought to take the place of the striking miners joined those miners in the strike. This ended the first attempt to break the strike in this part of the region.

FIRE ON THE SABBATH.

The Question Produced a Riot in a Synagogue in Passaic, N. J., on Saturday.

Passaic, N. J., July 23.—The question as to whether a Hebrew has a right to use fire on his Sabbath almost caused a riot in the synagogue of the Congregation Bual Jacob on Saturday, and yesterday resulted in the arrest of Hyman Park, Samuel Greenburg, Bernard Cohen and Louis Leven for disturbing the services. At the opening of the services on Saturday Louis Goodman, an elder of the synagogue read a portion of the ritual. He had hardly completed the third sentence when he was interrupted by Cohen, who startled the congregation by saying:

"Goodman, come down from there. You are unworthy to enter into the Lord's synagogue, because you are constantly violating the laws of your church by smoking tobacco contrary to the constitution of the Talmud. You know the Talmud prohibits and forbids true believers to handle any kind of fire on the Sabbath."

Mr. Goodman continued reading without heeding the interruption. This inattention to his warning angered Cohen, who shouted:

"Goodman, if you don't stop I'll resort to force and compel you to."

Mr. Goodman simply waved his hand Mr. Cohen, indicating that he must be silent, and continued reading the service. Cohen signalled to other members of the congregation, and Leven, Greenburg and Park advanced and assumed a threatening attitude toward Goodman. Goodman's friends arose and pressed forward. Others joined Cohen's side and the two factions came together in a lively scramble. Excitement was at a high pitch, when Rabbi Moses Lippman shouted.

"I'll call in the police to quell this disturbance if it is not stopped instantly."

The exchanging of blows ceased and gave place to a heated argument as to the right of a Jew to smoke on his Sabbath. It lasted nearly three hours, and will probably be renewed next Saturday if Mr. Goodman enters the pulpit to read the ritual.

Yesterday afternoon Greenburg, Cohen, Leven and Park were arraigned before Justice White for disturbing the services and gave bonds to appear.

Man or Woman, Ghost or Human.

We cannot say what will cure ghosts, but many men and many women who look like ghosts rather than human beings, through sickness, would regain health and happiness, if they would try the virtue of the world-renowned remedy, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Torpid liver, or "biliousness" impure blood, skin eruptions, scrofulous sores and swellings, Consumption (which is scrofula of the lungs), all yield to this wonderful medicine. It is both tonic and strength-restoring, and alternative or blood-cleansing.

A Deadly Wire.

Lancaster, July 24.—Two terrible accidents occurred here this morning due to a live electric wire. A broken wire on the East King street line of the Citizens' Electric Light company was grasped by Orville Johnson, a lad of 8 years. He was imtned iately jerked from the ground and swung to and fro, the deadly current burning into his hands and legs. Although there were a number of people in the vicinity no attention was paid to the lad, who was supposed to be at play, until a bright flash revealed the true state of affairs, and he was then rescued after three minutes of agony. He dropped to the ground unconscious and an examination showed his injuries to be of a most frightful character. All the flesh was burned from his hands and there is little hope of his recovery. Young Johnson had just been removed to his home when a trolly car came along, and noticing the broken wire hanging over the track, Oliver Steigerwall, a passenger, aged 23, got off to remove it. The instant of seizing it he dropped to the ground unconscious. The wire was quickly knocked from his hands and the unconscious man taken home. His body was found to be frightfully burned and his condition is pronounced very critical.

Breckinridge Expelled From the Masons.

Cincinnati, July 22.—The Masons have, it is believed, expelled Colonel W. C. P. Breckinridge. An eminent Mason today showed a respectful gentleman a newly-printed list of the members of Lexington lodge No. 1, issued since a recent meeting, remarking as he did so: "Masons are not permitted to divulge the secrets of the lodge room, and I can't say whether Colonel Breckinridge was expelled from our lodge or not, but here is a complete list of the present membership, and you can see for yourself who are members."

An examination of the printed roll showed Colonel Breckinridge's name to be missing.

The Coal Miners.

Philipsburg, Pa., July 24.—If the long strike in this region is not effectually broken by the end of the week, it will not be the fault of the operators. To-day fifty guards were placed at the Atlantic shaft, forerunners of a large body of new men are expected to arrive to-morrow, perhaps to-night. Captain Clark has been transferred from Punxsutawney to this section and will be in command of affairs.

The mass meeting which was to have been held at Houtzdale to-day has been postponed until to-morrow, the committee sent to Philadelphia on Sunday to confer with the Berwind-White company not having returned. They wired that the company would not pay more than forty cents for mining where the veins are three feet or more, but would allow a higher price for veins under three feet. Interview with a number of miners to-day are to the effect that the proposition will not be accepted.

The hearing of the miners charged with having burned down the tipple at the Imperial mine was continued at Osceola to-day. In the warrant are the names of some prominent citizens and this fact causes the hearing to be attended by hundreds. W. I. Shaw, of Houtzdale, counsel for the defendants, secured an adjournment of the hearing until Thursday.

MADE HIM GRAY.

Terrible Adventure of a Mifflin County Farmer Boy.

Lewistown, Pa., July 22.—Leroy Williamson, the 16-year-old son of a farmer living some miles from town, had a startling adventure last Sunday morning, from the effects of which he is still confined to his bed, and which has actually turned the boy's hair gray in places. Young Williamson had taken his gun to do a little shooting on the mountain just back of his father's farm, and finally got a shot at a rabbit, which ran on down the incline which was unusually steep just at that spot.

The boy started in pursuit, running as fast as he could. But just at the steepest side of the mountain and where the thin soil had for the most part been washed away, exposing the smooth rock, his foot caught in some trailing vine and he fell, beginning to roll toward the bottom of the ravine where ran the track of the Pennsylvania railroad. The boy was considerably bruised, but by dint of catching at the shrubs and vines that grew near he managed to break his fall as he went. His ear was suddenly startled by the sound of a coming train. He grasped at every plant near him, but the soil being extremely thin, none had struck root sufficiently deep to afford him a hold.

As the train came rushing on, seeming to jar the earth and to precipitate him still faster, the now terror-stricken boy dug his hands and roughly booted feet into the mountain's side. If he had been able to guess at the moment when the train would pass beneath him, he might have acelerated his movements so as to land below before the iron monster reached the spot and either find some small nook in which to crouch as the train passed or scramble up some less steep incline of the mountain, but he found it impossible to gauge the distance at which he heard the rumbling wheels and feared to drop lest at that very moment the train come whizzing around the curve just ahead.

Nearer and nearer he rolled to the foot of the mountain, gathering impetus as he went and then the hot air from the engine smote his face, the cinders blinding him, he made a frantic dig into the earth and bounced off the mountain on to the track below just as the last car whizzed by him, and which missed him by scarcely a foot. Young Williamson says that he fainted just as he felt the wind from the vanishing car touch his face.

When at last he was able to get up he was obliged to almost crawl to a hut but a hundred yards or so from where he had fallen and on reaching it literally crept in on his hands and knees to the great surprise of the occupants of the hut. Here he fainted again and had finally to be carried home in a wagon. He was not able to tell his story for sometime and by the following day his hair was gray about his temples. The boy is a sturdy, unimaginative farmer's lad, but his nerves have received a shock from which it will be weeks before they recover.

Coming from Honolulu.

Washington, July 22.—The announcement in the United Press dispatches this morning that Admiral Walker and the United States warship, Philadelphia, had been ordered home from Honolulu, occasioned much comment to day in naval and diplomatic circles. The inquiry was general whether it was the purpose of the United States to let the baby republic of Hawaii learn to walk alone, without the moral support which the presence of a United States man-of-war in the harbor of Honolulu is presumed to give. This appears to be the purpose.

Secretary Herbert, being shown the press dispatch to night, said the statement was correct that Admiral Walker had been ordered to come home in the Philadelphia to San Francisco, and to report for duty as Superintendent of the Naval Academy, and that the Philadelphia would be put in dry dock at the Mare Island Navy Yard, but the Secretary added that it was not correct to assume that that there was any immediate purpose of ordering the cruiser Charleston to Honolulu, to take the place of the Philadelphia. Secretary Hurbert has not yet decided where he will send the Charleston or when she will next be ordered for duty.

INHERITED A MILLION.

Little Katie Sullivan Raised from Poverty to Opulence.

NEW YORK, July 22.—Katie Sullivan, a girl of 14, had not the remotest idea up to a few days ago that she was the heiress to a big landed estate in Ireland and a bank account which represents the savings of six generations of Irishmen who were not land poor. Her sixth great-grandfather was named Patrick Sullivan.

According to the letters received by Katie's mother, Mrs. Patrick Sullivan, the little girl's share in this estate, which is divided equally between herself and her cousin Patrick, will amount to nearly one million dollars in bank and some miles of fine tilled and pasture lands. The letters came from Barrister John Donohue, who, in addition to being the lawyer for the estate, is appointed guardian for both Katie and Patrick.

All this wealth is left to Katie by her grandfather on her father's side. The latter was a well known sport who died in 1888, the year of the blizzard. The mother has since supported herself and children by taking in washing and scrubbing floors in office buildings. Katie has been taught the dressmaker's trade and is an industrious girl. She will sail for Ireland on Wednesday next. After visiting her relatives there the little Irish heiress will enter a convent in Derry county and there study music, French and other fine arts, according to provisions in her grandfather's will.

A Good Reason for Living.

"She lives to love and loves to live,
She loves to live because she lives to love."

Many think it is a sin to be sick; being so, one cannot bestow their affections on others as the Creator intended; being so, it certainly is a duty to cure yourself. Most women, these days, need an invigorating tonic. Worn-out teachers, "shop-girls" dressmakers, milliners, and those subject to tiresome labor, have found a boon in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a soothing and strengthening nervine, inducing refreshing sleep relieves despondency and restores to full use all the appetites and affections of one's nature. It is sold, by druggists, under a guarantee from its makers that it will in every case, give satisfaction, or price ($1.00) will be promptly refunded.

Died at the Upper Forge.

The death angel visited the home of Armstrong Dry, at the "Upper Forge," just east of Tyrone, at 5 o'clock Monday morning, and took therefrom the wife and mother. Mrs. Dry had been ailing for six months and her death was caused by dropsy.

Born in Centre county, Dec. 24, 1865, the deceased was aged 28 years, 6 months and 29 days, when she passed away. Her maiden name was Laura Rine, and until shortly before her marriage she continued to reside in Centre county. After her union with Mr. Dry they resided in Tyrone and for the past few years at the "Upper Forge," near the Tyrone iron works where her husband is employed as a forgeman.

Surviving are her husband and three children, Edna, Margaret and Joseph. Several brothers and sisters are also left to mourn their loss, among them Mrs. Amos Dry, of near Tyrone. The bereaved family have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in the death of so early an age of the beloved wife and mother.

Funeral services were held at 2.30 this afternoon at the home of the deceased. Rev. R. H. Gilbert officiated, Interment in Tyrone cemetery.

A Good Suggestion.

Rochester, N. Y—John Davies of this city, took a severe cold and suffered pain through the back and kidneys. His physician pronounced his case gravel, and failed to help him. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy was recommended, and after taking two bottles he considered bimself cured. It cures rheumatism and neuralgia also.

DROWNED IN OTSEGO LAKE.

Four Persons Came to Their Death by Accident.

Cooperstown, N. Y., July 24.—Four persons lost their lives in Otsego lake shortly after noon yesterday. They were Joseph R. Edwards, his wife Susan Edwards, their 8 year old son, and a book agent, whose name is not known. The Edwards family lived in a house near the lake, about four miles up from Cooperstown, having moved there a little over a month ago from Bainbridge. The agent who was drowned with them is said to have been a relative who had stayed with them over Sunday in his travels as a canvasser.

The party embarked in a good rowboat to take the book agent to Hyde Hill, which is on the other side of the lake, 8 miles up. On Sunday the men are reported to have been intoxicated, and from the presence of a whiskey bottle, nearly empty, when the boat was reached, liquor can safely be said to have caused the accident.

The party was passed by one of the lake steamers and their reckless actions observed. They had reached a point five and one-half miles up the lake at about 12.15, soon which the accident occurred by which all were thrown into the water. They were not seen by any one when they went over, but their cries attracted attention, and campers who were at their dinner hastened out to them with rowboats and a steam launch. When first seen they were clinging to the boat, but before help could reach them they had sunk from view. They were about a quarter of a mile from shore, a little north of Hutter's Point, in 170 feet of water. The lake is being dragged to recover the bodies, but none have yet been found. The lake was not very rough, and the boat was a safe one to carry a party of that size if properly and carefully handled.

Steel Companies Reorganize.

Philadelphia, July 24.—The reorganization committee of the Pennsylvania and the Maryland Steel companies held a meeting here to-day. At the conclusion of the meeting Effingham B. Morris, the chairman, announced that the plan of reorganization had been agreed upon.

"Over 90 per cent. of the creditors have assented to the plan," said Mr. Morris, and a sufficient amount of preferred stock has been subscribed to warrant the committee in declaring the plan for for judicial sale to be effective. This course was adopted by the committee to-day, and the time for subscriptions by all stockholders to the new preferred stock was extended until October 1 next. Stockholders holding the present common stock who do not avail themselves of this opportunity, will then be wiped out, as the company will now be reorganized for the benefit of the creditors and subscribers to new preferred stock to the amount of $1,500,000 only. The payments for this stock will be installments at convenient periods, beginning January 1, 1895. Proper notices are being sent to both creditors and stockholders, declaring that the amicable adjustment has been abandoned and that the plan for judicial sale is successful and has now been made effective.

An Observing Young Woman.

An observing young woman who frequent the business portion of town would like to know.

Why the lords of creations eat leathery shortcake and pallid slabs of pie this hot weather?

Why it is absolutely necessary for them to drink hot coffee and eat fried eggs when the thermometer registers 90 degrees in the shade?

Why it is absolutely imperative to get furious if the other fellows doesn't think just as you do in regard to the strikes and in regard to women a man would like to know?

Why the fair sex persists in shopping in hot weather to the detriment of their tempers and their husbands' comfort?

Why women can't remember to tell the cook to have iced tea instead of the boiling hot fluid for dinner these warm nights?

Why women won't learn that soda water ruins their digestive apparatus to say noth ing of their complexion?

Why women persist in carrying parasols at such an angle as to endanger the eyes of all pedestrians.

A Vision of WONDERLAND!

The Little Brownies, those mischevious but kindly children immortalized in nursery tales, have been recently reported as taking a tour of the wild and picturesque scenery of America. The idea was long delayed, and undoubtedly came to them through a chance examination of the most wonderful and beautiful publication of the age, the magnificent pictographic scenic serial, Entitled:

Glimpses of America,

Which the REPUBLICAN is now distributing among its patrons.

It is a sad commentary upon popular taste that Americans know less about the scenery of their own country than that of European lands, probably because travel in the far West has not been attended with such comforts as journeys through the old countries. But no reason is longer available to excuse ignorance of the THE INCOMPARABLE, THE IMPRESSIVE, THE TRULY MARVELOUS SCENERY of our wondrously diversified country, because "Glimpses of America" is a photographic album, comprising the grandest pictures of the most sublime objects that the human ever beheld.

They are not wood-cuts, or sketches, but large and perfect photographs of actual scenes, bewilderingly magnificent, imposing sights of the Rocky Mountains, the peaks, canons, waterfalls, valleys, lakes an cataracts of that great continental range, and of equally wonderous views on the great plains, Pueblo villages, burning deserts, immense forests; marvels of the Yosemite; picturesque, but almost inaccessible regions of the Northwest; of Alaska's glaciers and Indian towns; of the Yellowstone Park Geysers and curiosities; of Superior's Sculptured shores and Wisconsin's romantic dells; of Canada and the clevages, cascades, whirlpools and deep forests of the Northeast; of Eastern mountains, frothy streams, dashing rivers, and great precipices; of dreamy laugdrous scenes in the land of the flamingo, where the mocking-bird hides in the perfume-laden snow of the orange tree, and the sun kisses the banana into golden fruitage.

Every section of America is represented in this complete collection of photographs, and the pictures, instead of being imperfectly and clumsily described in brief foot-notes, as in other serials, are incorporated in the text, there being much space devoted to reading matter in "GLIMPSES OF AMERICA," as to illustrations. It is therefore a pictorial history of the charming scenery of our country, the most gorgeous, complete and eloquent that was ever prepared.

And OH,

The Cameragraphs

No one ever before saw such marvelous heliotype jewels as these.

They are specimens of the perfected process of photographing in natural colors—grand, glorious and beautiful beyond imagination. A series of these marvelous pictographic productions appear in "GLIMPSES OF AMERICA," and they are to be seen in no other publication, the cost being too great as as yet to admit of common use.

You can get "GLIMPSES OF AMERICA" only through the REPUBLICAN, but upon the following remarkable generous conditions: Send or bring to this office one coupon clipped from the REPUBLICAN, together with ten cents in coin, and we will deliver you Part I, or any subsequent number that is ready, over our counter, or have the same mailed to your address without further expense. The complete work comprises 32 parts, of 512 pages, 11 x 13 inches in size, and will be embellished with 550 superb photo-engravings. The photographs alone in this remarkable collection, if they were on sale, could not be purchased for less than $500.

Every American who loves his Country should possess a copy.

QUIET DAY IN THE PRISON.

The Great Heat, However, Made it Uncomfortable for Debs.

Chicago, July 18.—The first whole day spent by the quartet of American Railway union officers in the jail of Cook county was a quiet one, although the intense heat made their voluntary imprisonment decidedly uncomfortable. Part of the afternoon was spent outside the jail walls in the office of S. S. Gregory one of their counsel They have meals served to order from a hotel. Neither their spirits nor their appetite have been affected so far. All requests of friends to be allowed to furnish funds for their appearance in the United States court next Monday were met with a firm but grateful reply that they intended to remain behind the jail bars until they were taken before the federal court for trial on the charges of violating the injunction.

When they left their cells in the debtors' department this morning they came down to the main corridor, where they found waiting, in the visitors' cage their relatives. The men brought the letters addressed to Debs and a satchel containing wearing apparel for the present. Several hours were occupied in reading the correspondence and answering some of the messages. Many telegrams, sympathizing with the prisoners and reporting the condition of the strike in various parts of the west, were received by Mr. Debs and answered in an encouraging manner.

Theodore Debs was asked to night by a reporter for the United Press what the four prisoners would do if they were found guilty of contempt and given the option of a fine. He answered: "It is in the discretion of the court to impose a fine alone s fine and imprisonment, or imprisonment alone. If the judgment is a fine or imprisonment in default, my brother and the others will pay the fine. There, is no principal involved as in the present case of giving additional bail. All of them will stay where they are until next Monday morning at least. They may have to stay longer."

In the absence of Directors Hogan and Goodwin in the northwest and on account of the imprisonment of four others, there was no quorum in the executive board available to day. Director Burns practically had charge of affairs, although the prisoners were consulted and issued direction in regard to the strike outside of Chicago. At Ulrich's hall the road committee reported that the union was not losing ground in Chicago.

The shops at Pullman will probably be opened in a few days but the strikers, by a large majority, do not intend to return to work at the reduced scale of wages until they are forced to do so by the pangs of hunger or the approach of winter. The total number of applications received by the Pullman company from strikers who want to return to work is seventy five. The great body of strikers are getting plenty to eat just now from some unknown source and every man, woman and girl is as full of fight as ever.

Muhammed Webb Barred Out.

New York, July 18.—Mrs. Nafeesa M. T. Keep, the editor of the "Voice of Islem" on Thursday morning locked and barred the office door against Muhammed Alexander Russell Webb president of the Moslem World Publishing company, and the chief propagator of Islamism in American Since that time Mrs. Keep has remained on guard night and day. Mr. Webb is the gentleman who came to New York about a year and a half ago with the avowed intention of converting the benighted Christians of this land to the true of Mohammed. The funds for carrying on the work were furnished by Hajee Abuliah Hajee Arab, a wealthy Oriental merchant who lives at Jedda, Arabia and has extensive commercial connections throughout India. Mrs. Keep charges that Webb is not faithful to his trust in the handling of the funds.

Mrs. Keep herself is a woman with a record. She figured as a Theosophist before turning up in the Mohammedan propaganda.

An Original Supporter.

The Lewisburg News, a republican paper says: "While you are making up a cabinet for Governor Hastings don't over look the fact that Col. Jas. Coburn was strictly an "original" supporter of Dan, and has for years been one of the most persistent and judicious boomers of Johnstown's hero, and besides, the Col. is every where recognized as the kind of Republican the party can not get along without. His reputation as a party fighter is not confined to the limits of Pennsylvania by any means, and then where did you ever meet a more intelligent and delightful gentleman than Col. Coburn? He would adorn any public position."

Horse Traders Traveling.

A Jersey shore correspondent of the Williamsport Times says: Monday at noon Liveryman J. D. Bowers and Manager of the Bush Line William Hepburn, with Joe Bowers and Ed. Crab to look after the horses and Abe Rodearmel to act as chief cook, left town with 12 to 15 horses on a decidedly novel trip. The party have everything required to camp out in true "gipsy" style. They struck camp "Bowers" at Mill Hall Monday night where they will remain for a few days, when they will move toward Bellefont. They will be joined by horsemen at Lock Haven and Bellefonte, which will increase the number of horses to 35 head, The object of this trip is to trade horses, watches, race, wrestle, run a foot race or in fact anything one might find in a genuine "gipsy" camp. Arrangements were not completed for "fortune tellers."

Evolution of Woman.

Kate Field, speaking of the evolution of woman, says: "Grub worms may become butterflies in a night, but it takes generations to make independent thinkers out of a sex that has so far gravitated between slavery and dolldom." Miss Field told a cogent and terrible truth. The slow but painful processes of evolution must be endured. So orderly are these processes that the race continually suffers the pains of new birth. Woman, however, has now an opportunity of self-assertion which the years have hitherto denied her. She should quicken the processes of progress aiding them herself. The intelligent mother is the hope of any people. Without intelligence she can neither be useful nor beautiful. The more intelligence she possesses the deeper and richer will be her life, and the more she will enjoy her full emancipation. The mother who does not take an interest in her country's affairs certainly is not as well prepared to rear her son to citizenship as the one who feels the pulse of her country's life. We therefore favor extending the franchise to woman, not as a favor, but in the interests of the race. She should grasp the ballot with motherly and patriotic instincts, and cast it boldly against the enemies of her home. She will be more lovable in man's estimation when, his peer in public and private life, she strengthens her woman's characteristics by an abounding intelligence, which exhalts as well as beautifies. Woman should henceforth be neither a grub worm, a butterfly, nor a doll. She should be a queen. If she would be loved, she must be respected; if she would be respected, she must command respect. Intellect is the source of authority. Without it beauty of form is inarticulate and virtue impotent. Without it woman's power of suggestion in society is weak, except it may be along lines neither exhaulting to herself nor the other sex. With it she may be, what she must be, in order to be rationaly loved, a queen.—[Progressive Age.

Immigration at Philadelphia.

The report of Commissioner Rodgers for the year ending June 30 shows that Philadelphia is not a favorite landing place for immigrants, less than 20,000 having arrived at this port during the year. That those who first trod American soil at Philadelphia were above the average of recent immigrants is obvious from the fact that of the 19,857 foreigners who were landed only 32 were debarred from all causes. The crooks and paupers evidently consider New York a better place to run the gauntlet of the immigration authorities.

The classification of the immigrants arriving at this port destroys some illusions as to the source of our recent immigration. Italy is popularly supposed to furnish a very large contingent of our new foreigners, but the cold figures show that only 53 natives of Italy landed at Philadelphia during the year. Germany leads the list with 4,227; Ireland follows hard after with 3,747; Russia is third, with 3,385, mostly exiled Hebrews; England furnished 2,639, and Hungary 1,448. The Hungarian contingent, which most probably distributed itself in the coal regions of the state, formed the only considerable element of undesirable immigration landing here, and as the Huns stood fifth on the list there is little to dread or criticise in the showing.

The proportion of skilled to unskilled labor represented in the year's addition to our population is less than one to two, the figures being 3,529 skilled to 7,655 miscellaneous, mostly laborers and servants. There were 8,570 arrivals registered as without occugation, the most of whom were doubtless children. It is gratifying to note from these figures that while Philadelphia is not a favorite landing place for immigrants from abroad those that do land here are of the best rather than of the worst of the foreign additions to our American population. The Germans, Irish, English and Hebrews, composing the bulk of the arrivals at the port for the year, will develop into good citizens and not into anarchists.

Bull Attacked the Engine.

Colorada Springs, Col., July 22.—The passengers on the Colorado Midland train, No. 602, had a narrow escape from death yesterday. The train left Denver at 8.34 and was due here at 11:10. Upon reaching a point eight miles north of here, and while running about twenty miles an hour a big bull which was in a herd of cattle turned and charged the engine. The animal's head was cut completely off, and the engine left the track, running on the ties about seventy yards, dashed into the eastern side of the cut while the tender was swung across the track and the baggage car ploughed into the west bank. The day coach also left the track, but the chair car and Pullman remained on the rails. The engine crew sayed themselves byjumping.

—Only 102 degrees in the shade was the heat record for Thursday. And to day was about its equal. Hot enough for the torrid zone.

—One hundred and fifty men started to work in the Fishburn mines at Munson station on Monday. The compromise rate of 45 cent, is being paid.

—Mrs. John Strunk died at her home below Howard on Tuesday of dropsy. She leaves a husband and seven children. The funeral occurred Wednesday afternoon.

—Workmen are now busily engaged painting the iron superstructure of the High street bridge over Spring Creek. This is something that should have been done long ago.

—Quite a large birthday party was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs Charles Gummo, on Buffalo Run on Tuesday. It was in celebration of Mrs. Gummo's birthday. Fully fifty people were present and assisted in the enjoyment of the occasion.

—We were in error on Wednesday in stating that the Central Railroad company would run an excursion to Atlantic City on July 26th. An excursion will be run over the Reading on that date, but the Central's first excursion will not be until August 23rd.

—On Thursday evening a social party and dance was held at the residence of Mrs. Howard, in Bush's addition, in honor of the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hull. Quite a large gathering of young people were present and the occasion proved a very enjoyable one.

—The Ladies' mite society of the Evangelical church at Howard will hold a festival in the school house at that place on Saturday afternoon and evening July 28th All kinds of cake, ice cream confections and fruit will be served. As it is a worthy cause there should be a large turn out of patrons.

—The remains of Irene Ishler Mokle, daughter of Mrs. Frank Mokle of Altoona, whose husband was killed in that place a few months ago, were taken through Bellefonte to Lemont Friday morning for interment. The child was aged but 7 months and died on Wednesday evening. Mrs. Mokle is a niece of ex-sheriff Ishler of this place.

—Among the changes that will be made in locations of business places ere long will be the moving of the law offices of Beaver & Dale. That firm expects to occupy a suite in the new Brockerhoff building and their present office will be occupied by baker and confectioner Achenbach. He will also move his household from Bishop street to the stone house adjoining the store room.

—Says an exchange: "Men and women may go away for a change, but they come back with a good deal less and wonder what it was all about. In nine cases out of ten they gave up a cool home room for a cramped, ill-fashioned one at the seaside. Still, you cannot have your penny and tart both. With all its discomfort, a trip to other places has a great educational value—if you take some education with you.

—The Crawford county farmer who gathered 184 bushels of bushels of strawberries from a single acre has the true idea of beating out the present stagnation in farming communities. It no longer pays to raise a staple crop like wheat or corn. The day for that sort of thing has gone by, as cumulative harvests are the products of the West and the prices of the last ten years have been wholly governed from Chicago and Duluth after the elevators of the Dakotas and Winnipeg country have been heard from. A diversity of crops means money for Pennsylvania farmers, and in a number of sections the truck garden and the field devoted to small fruits goes far ahead of wheat that even in the days of $35 an acre did not pay any better.

A NARROW ESCAPE!

How it Happened.

The following remarkable event in a lady's life will interest the reader: "For a long time I had a terrible pain at my heart, which fluttered almost incessantly. I had no appetite and could not sleep. I would be compelled to sit up in bed and belch gas from my stomach until I thought every minute would be my last. There was a feeling of oppression about my heart, and I was afraid to draw a full breath. I couldn't sweep a room without sitting down and resting; but, thank God, by the help of New Heart Cure all that is past and I feel like another woman. Before using the New Heart Cure I had taken different so-called remedies and been treated by doctors without any benefit until I was both discouraged and disgusted. My husband bought me a bottle of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and am happy to say I never regretted it, as I now have a splendid appetite and sleep well. I weighed 125 pounds when I began taking the remedy, and now I weigh 130½. Its effect in my case has been truly marvelous. It far surpasses any other medicine I have ever taken or any benefit I ever received from physicians."—Mrs. Harry Starr, Pottsville, Pa., October 12, 1892.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists, or by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles $5, express prepaid. This great discovery by an eminent specialist in heart disease, contains neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.

THAT WATER QUESTION.

Another Writer Gives Opinion in the Matter.

EDITOR DAILY NEWS,

DEAR SIR:—I desire to commend the DAILY NEWS for the introduction of what ought to be a rigorous investigation of the water service in Bellefonte. It is the opinion of the writer that this is badly needed at both ends of the service at this time. The people cry water! water! and there is no water for those in elevated portions of the town the greater part of the afternoon, while rivulets run to waste down the gutters in other portions through out the day.

Let us by all means find out why we cannot all have water at all times. It is not because of any want in the supply of water, because by careful measurement the spring is computed to discharge 14,600 gallons per minute. Reckoning upon this basis we find the amount discharged daily from the spring to be fully ten times the tabled capacity of both steam and water wheel pumps, running constantly, and about twenty times the actual working capacity. So there is no fault here. Have the people of Bellefonte ever refused to furnish the money to erect substantial and adequate water works with which to furnish every family in town with a plentiful supply? Consult the statements showing the expenditure of untold thousands of dollars paid out in that way and you have the fact that the people of Bellefonte have been almost prodigal in furnishing money for that purpose. So there is no fault here. Seeing then we have ten times as much water as we can use, and all the money needed or asked for to utilize it, narrows the investigation to one point, namely, the management.

Now, Mr. Editor; I am stuck with the "point" used above in my reference to water management, and I fear I will be charged in this with want of respect to the powers that be. I desire, therefor, to emphasize the statement that no offence is intended. I find the definition of a "point" is "that which has (a) position without magnitude." It is therefore a term well adapted to define the average town council. Another definition not given in all the books is "a point is the little end of nothing." We do not wish to be understood to make any such reference to our distinguished council, because that would be both constructively and destructively offensive. It is not the purpose of the writer to persue this investigation to any great length, as that should be done by a committee. I believe they will get along fairly well if they have a chance.

This protracted hot spell is decidedly against them, it requires the hydraulic committee to keep under water so much of the time that some things are liable to be overlooked. Last year during the heated spell the stand pipe was brought forth and the weather changed immediately, and we had copious showers and cooler weather; and we were assured there would never be any want of water in any part of town again. It is worse this year than ever so I think the proper thing for the hydraulic committee to have done at the last meeting would have been to brought in another recquisition for another standpipe. But, as before stated, we must not be too severe on them while this "hot spell" lasts. We believe they did the very best they knew at that meeting. They brought in a resolution, which was passed, censuring McCalmont & Co. for that which it appears they were not guilty of, namely, willfully and recklessly wasting water. But then McCalmont & Co. should have a kick at any rate; they deserve punishment at the hands of Bellefonte. They are guilty of the crime of furnishing a large number of men with employment in about the only business that keeps going, regardless of general business depression, etc., and the town council are elected and employed to administer the punishment, judging from the published reports this year.

DOMINO.

Musical Jubilee at Booneville.

On Saturday, July 28, a musical jubilee and festival will be given in Strohecker's grove near Booneville, under the auspies of the Booneville silver cornet band. The bands of Millheim, Loganton and Rote will also be in attendance. A parade will take place at 10 o'clock in the morning Hon. C. A. Mayer, General Hastings, and ex-Senator S. R. Peale, will deliver addresses. There will also be tub and bicycle races, and rope walking feat by Samuel Osenbach, champion high rope walker of Ohio. Refreshments of all kinds can be procured on the grounds, and horse feed in abundance.

Death of Hon. M. W. Jackson.

A telegram was received in this place on Wednesday announcing the death, at his home in Berwick, Pa., of Hon. M. W. Jackson, step father of Mrs. W. F. Reeder of this place, which occurred at an early hour Wednesday morning, after an illness of only about ten days. Mr. Jackson was 79 years old last January and was in good health up to his last illness. He was president of the Berwick National bank, and one of the most prominent citizens of that place.

The Oil Business Reviving.

Clarion Democrat: A well is now drilling on the Jesse Best homestead farm in Licking township, which it is hoped will open a new field of oil and gas territory. Morgan & Co., representing a syndicate of Pittsburgh capitalists, have leased about 500 acres in the vicinity and this is their first test well. Several thousand acres have also been leased by Crawford, of Emlenton, who, it is understood, represents the Standard Oil company.

Death of Augustus Montgomery.

Mr. Augustus Montgomery died at his home near Howard on Tuesday, at the advanced age of 67 years. He was buried on Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock, interment being made at Jacksonville. Rev. N. B. Smith officiated, and the pall bearers were Benjamin Holter, Abraham Holter, D. W. Pletcher and Robert Cooke.

Augustus Montgomery, the fourth son and youngest of the six children of Joseph and Sally Montgomery, was born near Howard, Pa., July 16, 1827, and died July 17, 1894. His wife, Margaret A., died July 27, 1863, at the early age of 26 years, while their only child, Robbie, was drowned at the Howard tannery July 6, 1865, at the age of five years, being one of the only two grandchildren in the family. The other, a child of Robert Montgomery, having died five years previously.

Mr. Augustus Montgomery was the last of a family noted far and wide for their hospitality, friendliness and neighborly kindness. Sickness and death in the neighborhood nearly always found one or other of the Montgomery's a nurse or a watcher.

All were members or adherants of the Presbyterian church and their house and home were always open for the entertainment of God's ministers. One after another the father, mother, children and grandchildren have been laid away in the old Jacksonville graveyard and now we have laid the last one beside his kindred.

Many an one will drop a tear for "Gust," as we familiarly called him, in remembrance of his kindness of heart and generous disposition. Many a one will recall his kindness in nursing him back to health and strength, while many another will recall his tender, sympathetic handling of their beloved dead.

And now we have tried to do these same kind offices for him. May his rest be peace beside the old church in the valley.

A Wonderful Crop.

Mr. James Poorman, of Oak Hall, was in town on Saturday and in talking over the prospects of good crops in the vicinity of his home he recalled the remarkable yield of wheat that the Hale farm, operated by Mr. C. J. Stem, near that place, has made this season.

For a number of years past this farm has been looked upon as "worked out" and the tenant rarely harvested more grain than was necessary for domestic use and the next season's seeding. But recently Mr. Stem, who is one of the most energetic young farmers in the county, moved on to it and commenced to fertilize liberally. The consequence was that when he finished harvesting his crop last week he had nearly three thousand sheafs of wheat on the sixty-five acres of land. Averaging the wheat at a bushel to the dozen, which is fair since the grain is well filled, he will have three thousand bushels of wheat, or an average of about 46-2-13 bushels to the acre.

Mr. Stem's other crops are equally as good and the question of how to house them is becoming a serious one with him.

Quiet at Ben's Creek.

The strike situation was quiet at Ben's Creek yesterday. All the Swedes who were taken there the day before have left, as have also the coal and iron police under Captain Riger. The strikers however have not returned to work and the present indication are that they will remain out for an indefinite period. They are determined that non union men will not be imported to take their places and have armed themselves for a fight in case Piper & Co., attempt to start their mines under the protection of coal and iron police.

The W. H. Piper & Co. officials will not attempt to resume operations wish the force they had on Wednesday, and are now waiting the formation of some plan of action. That this company will open its mines in the near future there is little reason to doubt, for it is at present suffering a great loss by the strike, but just when the start will be made is not yet known.

A Full House.

During the past six months the county jail has been filled with boarders. There has been an average of about sixteen inmates during that time. This is an unusual record and Sheriff Condo says it keeps them busy cooking for such a large list. During Sheriff Ishler's term there were very few prisoners in the jail at any time and often only one or two. It looks as though criminals were getting plentier in Centre county or else the officials were becoming more vigilant.

—The iron bridge that spanned Spring Creek at the Nail Works below town, washed away by the late floods, has been replaced and is now in as good condition as ever. The flood carried the bridge in fact to the turn, a half mile below, where was starnded, until W. B. Mailand's men took it apart and rebuilt it on the old abutments. Little damage was done to it aside from the bending and twisting of some of the irons.

Fire at Brock Mines.

DuBois Express: The electric power house at Brock mines was destroyed by fire yesterday morning. The Brock is one of the few mines in the world using electric power for hauling purposes. The power house, moters and engines were destroyed. The loss is estimated at $7,000.

GRAND BAND TOURNAMENT.

A Movement to Form an Organization of Centre and Clinton Counties.

With the purpose in view of creating a more general interest among the bands in Centre and Clinton counties and to fraternize the various band organizations, an effort is being made by the Bellefonte band to get up a tournament to be held at Hecla Park on September 6th, and all the bands in Centre and Clinton counties will be invited to be present and participate in the festivities of the day as well as join the organization which it is to be hoped will be effected at that time. There will be musical contest for which prizes will be offered, and nothing will be left undone to make the day a most pleasant and successful one. In order to more fully explain the object we publish the following letter now being sent to every band in the two counties:

BELLEFONTE, PENN'A., July 18th, '94.

To the members of the — —Band:—

We are about to make preparation for holding a Grand Band Tournament, consisting of Bands of Centre and Clinton counties, Sept. 6th, at Hecla Park, near Hublersburg, on the line of the C. R. R. of Pa. To make this tournament a success, we are inviting every band in the two counties to be present, and expect not less than thirty. The main feature of the event will be a friendly contest for the prizes which shall be offered, viz:—1st prize, $50,00 silver cornet, 2nd prize $30,-00 silver slide trombone. There will be no entrance fee and every band is invited to contest, but we desire every band present whether it enters the contest or not.

The contest will consist of three pieces selected by ourselves viz.—one overture, a selection and a march, not to run above grade 4. The names of the pieces will be sent to each band upon our receiving notice that it desires to enter the contest. Ten points will be observed in the contest, attack, ensemble, tone shading, pianissimo and forte, tempo, accelrando, accentuation, legata and staccato. There will be three judges, the most competent musicians of the two counties, and the method of making the decisions will be absolutely fair and impartial, the bands playing by number and the judges not seeing the bands, or knowing which is playing.

The programme for the day would be as follows:—Morning, concerts by the different bands, whether contestants or not, Grand parade of all the bands, all playing the same piece. Dinner. Afternoon, Forming permanent organization of bands in Centre and Clinton Cos. looking to an annual tournament. Grand contest followed by dancing and a general good social time during the evening.

We desire your co-operation in this event. Will you go and help make it one of the greatest musical gatherings ever held in this part of the state? The expense of each band would be trifling, viz: travelling, dinner and cost of music which would be more than compensated for by the pleasure and benefit derived for such an occasion. Dinner and all kinds of refreshments will be served on the grounds at reasonable rates. Please give this your immediate attention and let us know whether you desire to enter the contest. If you do, we will send names of pieces. also posters etc.

Excursion rates will be given on the railroads. Answer this week if possible. Address,

WILLIAM T. MEYER,
Musical Director Bellefonte Band,
Bellefonte, Penn'a.

P. S. Our band of course, will not enter the contest.

Making Better Time.

Says a Harrisburg special of July 16: Business is looking up on the Pennsylvania Railroad in this vicinity, and employes are making better time. From an official source it was learned to day that freight traffic has about resumed its normal condition, comparing favorably with the business done at the time last year. Brakemen are doing better than they have done for some time, about all of them working as steadily as ordinarly. Shop hands will do much better this month than last. The immediate outlook for continued traffic improvement on the "Pennsy" is good. While the boom in traffic just now might be considered spasmodic, because of the recent troubles in the mining districts and at Chicago, there are those among the officials who think the present revival lasting.

A Delicate Mechanical Feat

E. A. Williams, a watchmaker of New York city, recently accomplished a remarkable mechanical feat—that of drilling a hole through the entire length of a pin, from the head to the point, the opening being just large enough to admit of the passage of a fine hair. Mr. Williams is the mechanic who two years ago cut a sewing needle in two lengthwise and then drilled holes and fastened it together so nicely that the split could not be seen by the naked eye.

A Chance for Fishermen.

Fish Commissioner Ebel, of the state board residing at Harrisburg, offers as a prize a handsome gold watch to the fisherman catching the largest salmon, with rod, hook and line, this season, in the Susquehanna and Juniata rivers. Affidavit must be made and proofs shown that the fish was caught in the way required.

—Miss Nellie Boal, who left Bellefonte several years ago to make her home with her brother George in Washington, D. C. was married in that city on last Monday to Mr. Henry Barnes, who has a position there in the treasury department. Nell, who is a daughter of Mrs. Francis Boal and a grand daughter of the late Judge Burnside, is a young lady of a bright and happy disposition and her friends here wish her every happiness.

Fire Destroys Wheat.

On Monday a spark from a locomotive set fire to the wheat of Mrs. James Curtin, at Curtin, this county. The wheat was in shock and the greater portion of it was destroyed.

—S. T. Buck drove to Bellefonte from Jersey Shore on Wednesday last in four hours and twelve minutes a distance of 41 miles. He won $25.00.

Miss Emma Aikens is visiting her friend, Miss Effie Hamilton, in Tyrone.

Miss Maggie Cooney, of Pittsburg, is at present visiting her many friends in this place.

—The Tyrone Hearld man seems to known it all regarding the affairs of Company B of this place.

—Two weeks from to-morrow will be the day of the Logan's picnic, and the formal openin of Hecla Park.

—What has become of the Bellefonte Board of Trade, the Board of Health and such similar organizations? is the question agitating the minds of many of our citizens at present.

—Mr. Samuel Gueiswaite, the driver of the Logan Steam Fire engine, was siezed with a violent attack of cramp Sunday morning and for several hours his life was despaired of, but we are glad to say he is now some better, although yet confined to his bed.

—The supreme court last week decided that borough and township auditors are entitled to compensation for their labor in connection with the preparing of tickets under the Baker ballot law used at the February elections, the county being liable for the same.

—The members of the Milesburg M. E. church and Sunday school will hold a festival on Friday and Saturday evenings, July 27th and 28th, on the diamond in front of Mrs Bradley's residence. Ice cream, cake, etc., will be served. Everybody is invited to attend.

—The Odd Fellows picnic at Hecla Park on Saturday was one of the largest gatherings ever held in Nittany valley. It was estimated that during the day between two and three thousand people were in attendance. The day proved a lovely one and everybody present enjoyed themselves immensely.

—Worry retards, rather than forwards work. It tries the mind before the work is begun. It makes one fretful, sours the temper and disturbes the peace of the household. One who worries is never free from care. There are certain evils which cannot be overcome. We should make the best of them, and not add to the burden of sorrow.

—The venerable Philip Collins, of Ebensburg, the senior member of the manufacturing firm of Collins Bros., of Bellefonte, and who had been seriously ill of a complication of disease, has so far recovered that his friends contemplate his removal to Bellefonte and later on to Atlantic City in the near future. Mr Collis is 73 years of age.

—The secret service treasury department has discovered a new counterfeit $2. United States silver certificate. The counterfeit is of the series of 1891, W. S. Rosecrans, register; E. H. Nebeker, treasurer, with a portrait of William Windom and a small scalloped seal. The note appears to have been printed from a wood a cut plate.

—The courts in Calcutta were recently asked to permit a 15-year-old widow to select her father as her guardian. In the affidavit accompanying her petition she states that she is residing with her father, her mother, the step daughter of her husband's daughter, and her husband's son-in-law. The only other relations, she says, are a son, her husband's first cousin, and her husband's father's brother's widow—her aunt by marriage, in short.

—The Wilkesbarre Record has opened up a political department in which candidates are permitted to blow their own trumpets for the modest price of ten cents a line, cash in advance. This is a proper and wise move. There is no reason why a newspaper should give labor and space to candidates for office on a free lunch basis. They are after the offices for the "money," and it is only right that a just and fair tribute should be exacted for pushing them into public prominence and financial profit.

PROHIBITION CONVENTION.

They Meet in the Court House and Put Up a Full Ticket.

Tuesday was the day of the Prohibition county convention in this place. Previous to calling the convention to order parties were asked to come forward and sign nomination papers for state officers.

The convention was called to order at 10.45 by Chairman J. Ziegler, after which a quartette from Philipsburg, namely Messrs. J. B. Gill, R. A. Gill, Isaac Bower and Rev. N. O. Patterson sang a delightful prohibition song, Prayer was then offered by Rev. W. R. Whitney, of Philipsburg. An order of business offered by Dr. Guss, of Philipsburg, was adopted and then the convention was organized by electing Rev. J. B. Soule chairman, and N. S. Baily secretary.

Messrs. F. Potts Green, A. B. Smith, J. I. Thompson, A. J. Cook and Isaac Guss were appointed a committee on resolution.

The county chairman then read his report for the past year, in substance, as follows: One thousand platforms of the party were printed and circulated; meetings were held in several places and prominent speakers from a distance were brought here at considerable expense; copies of papers were circulated and hotel bills, postage, etc., paid. The expense of the chairman at the spring election was $1.63, and the vote was almost equal to the cents spent. The chairman said that money did not come in very copiously and the party was cramped for funds. The treasurer the past year has not had much treasure. The entire expense from December, 1892, to December, 1893, was $293.26. The receipts $226.66, leaving a deficit of $66.60. The entire debt at present is $81.01 This money is all due the chairman who is willing to take $25 now and wait on the balance one year without interest. N. S. Bailey moved the report be adopted, but another member suggested that an auditing committee be appointed. The motion as amended was carried. A collection was then taken up which amounted to $52.96.

Rev. G. W. Leisher, Edward K. Rhoads and J. W. Mattern were appointed an auditing committee.

Judicial conferrees chosen were C. H. Else, of Milesburg; Samuel Shaeffer and C. C. Shuey, of Bellefonte. They were instructed for H T. Ames, of Williamsport, for Judge.

As Senatorial conferrees J. W. Mattern, C. C. Hess and Dr. Isaac Guss were appointed.

At this juncture the auditing committee reported the accounts of the county chairman as correct.

Rev. J. Ziegler was unanimously re-elected county chairman for the ensuing year. He was given the privilege to choose his own county committee. The following ticket was then put in nomination:

Jury commissioner, W. W. Bell.

Associate Judge, Jacob Shuey, of College township.

Assembly, Thomas Young, of Philipsburg, and John Craig, of Julian.

The Senatorial conferrees were instructed for Rev. J. B. Soule.

The committee on resolutions reported as follows:

RESOLUTIONS PASSED.

We, the prohibitionists of Centre county in convention assembled, this 24th day of July, 1894, declare:

1st Recognizing the practice of total abstinence as the only safe rule for the individual we are not assembled to attempt the impracticable folly of removing the evils of intemperance while by license and so called regulation we encourage drinking, but would cure the disease of inebriety by removing the cause by outlawing the liquor traffic, which we regard as a gigantic monopoly, controlling legislation in its own interests and against the masses.

Resolved, That while we recognize the prohibition of the liquor traffic as our distinctive policy, we do not ignore any issue that demands consideration at our hands, believeing that a party which is strong enough to settle the liquor question, can be trusted to wisely act upon all other questions of government.

Since both the old parties favor the license, tariff and revenue plan of dealing with the drink traffic, and as said plan is not a restriction but a protection to the business we believe no man, however good or temperate, can consistently accept office from or vote with these parties with a view of opposing the saloon.

We endorse as our platform the platforms of our state and National Conventions held at Williamsport and Cincinnati respectively.

Dunstown Centennial.

One hundred years ago Dunstown, Clinton County, Pa., was laid out. To commemorate the founding of the town and to honor the memory of its founder, William Dunn, a Centennial celebration will be held in the village Wednesday afternoon, September 5th, 1894.

T. C. Hipple, Esq., a leading member of the Clinton County Bar, will deliver the Centennial Address at 2.30 p. m.

Dunstown is one of the oldest regularly laid out towns in the West Branch Valley. It is situated on the north side of the Susquehanna, opposite the historic Great Island, and about one mile distant from the Court House in Lock Haven.

All who take pride and interest in the development of the county are invited to participate in the celebration.

—Mr. W. T. Meyer, director of the Bellefonte band, informed the writer that the proposed band tournament in September is already an assured success. Already replies have been received from a number of the bands and all signify their intention of being present, while five of the bands heard from have entered as contestants for the prizes. In Centre and Clinton counties there are between twenty-five and thirty bands and, when they all get to blowing their horns at Hecla Park they will make considerable noise.

Distinguished Visitors.

While in Denver last week our townsman, Mr. J. S. Kent, met ex-Governor Beaver and General Hastings of Pennsylvania. Both gentlemen recognized in Mr. Kent an old friend and pioneer resident of that great state, and gave him a very hearty recognition. Through the courtesy of Mr. Kent the editor of The News had the pleasure of meeting the gentlemen. Governor Beaver is one of the veterans of the war, and by its ravages now travels about on one leg; he is genial and pleasant and to know him is to like him. General Hastings is the republican candidate for governor of that state next fall, and is a fine specimen of manhood. Mr. Kent thoroughly enjoyed his visit to the metropolis and the meetings of the league conventions. He is now more than ever of the opinion that there is brain and brawn and virtue enough in the republican party to save the country from the threatened ruin.—Grand Junction (Col.) News, July 7th.

Ex-Governor James A. Beaver, of Bellefonte, Pa., accompanied by Gen. Daniel H. Hastings, candidate of the republican party for governor of that state, arrived in this city on the morning train from Glenwood.

The distinguished gentlemen were immediately taken in charge by J. S. Kent, an old-time friend of the gentlemen, and an informal reception was held at the home of Mr. Kent by the gentlemen. They met a number of former residents of the Keystone state.

At 11 oclock the gentlemen were driven, under escort of Mayor M. L. Allison, Judge C. F. Caswel, Judge Sweeney and J. S. Kent, to the fruit orchards on Fruit ridge and on the mesa.

At one o'clock they left over the Rio Grande Western for Salt Lake and from there will go to Yellowstone Park.

General Beaver served with honor and credit one term as governor of Pennsylvania. He is a gallant veteran of the rebellion and lost a leg in one of the battles of the war.

Gen. Daniel H. Hastings, who will certainly be elected as Pennsylvania's governor, has a distinguished military figure and looks every inch the intrepid soldier that he is. He is over six feet in height and was a marked figure as he walked the streets of the city this morning.—Grand Junction (Col.) Sentinel, of July 14th.

Boy Smothered to Death.

Ambrose, the little seven year-old son of A. W Beyer, of Tyrone, was smothered to death in a corn-bin Tuesday afternoon about 3 o'clock. The little fellow had gone onto the third floor of Mr. Beyer's mill unnoticed, and crawled into a bin filled with shelled corn which in the process of transferring was gradually being emptied the corn passing down a funnel in the bottom of the bin. The boy evidently not knowing the danger he was in permitted himself to be carried down the course of the corn, while the grain from the sides closed in and over him. His feet were discovered protruding through the funnel from the floor below, but all the corn had to be removed from the bin before the child could be rescued. He was under the corn it is thought about half an hour, and when taken out life was extinct.

Milton Mechants Taken In.

Milton Standard: On Friday of last week three smooth tongued gentlemen, claiming to be representatives of K. G. E. castle of this place, canvassed Milton with an advertising scheme to be used at Eaglesmere excursion. Their idea was to have 5,000 fans printed with advertisement and given away on the excursion train. About twenty business houses in town took advantage of the offer and bought spaces which averaged about a dollar each. They had several sample fans printed on which they collected their money and then skipped. A telephone message to the Standard says Lewistown was worked the same way.

Marriage Licenses.

Following is the list of marriage licenses granted by the register of Centre county during the past week:

Perry Faringner and Sallie Butler, both of Romola.

Charles C. Gettig, of Linden Hall, and Lillian V. Fleisher, of Tusseyvile.

Harry Lucas, of Boggs twp., and Agnes Helsel, of Tyrone.

David Chambers and Emma G. Gotwalt both of Clarence.

James F. Uzzell, of Snow Shoe, and Minnie Veihdorfer, of Moshannon.

William H. Stover and Jennie Kline, both of Centre Hall.

Death of John Delaney.

Mr. John Delaney died at his home in Central City on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, of cancer. He was aged about 74 years. A wife and three daughters are left to mourn their loss. One of the daughters is the wife of William Parks, of this place; the other two are unmarried. The funeral will take place Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, interment to be made in the Catholic cemetery.

—The date for the holding of the band tournament at Hecla Park has been changed from September 6th to August 30th, which will be on Thursday.

RIFLE PRACTICE.

Rules for the Government of the Terms this Year.

The annual regimental and brigade matches for this year will be shot upon the state range at Mt. Gretna park during the week beginning August 27. The conduct of the matches will be in charge of Colonel Herman Osthaus, of Scranton, general inspector of rifle practice.

Each regiment or batallion of infantry shall be entitled to one of four men and one reserve—the three cavalry companies combined to one team of the same number and the three artilery batteries to one team. Teams to be selected and detailed by authority of the regimental commanders and by the ranking cavalry and artillery officers. No commissioned officers shall be eligible to membership upon these teams, nor any one who serves as such in this year's encampment. Only the state arm can be used, and with the regulation sight. The exclusive use of the open or V sight is recommended, as the use of the peep sight is dangerous to human life and occasions frequent shots on the wrong target. Teams must arrive and go into camp upon the range on Monday, August 27. The range will be open for practice on Tuesday, August 28, at 8 a. m. Tents and straw mattresses will be provided, but the men must bring their own blankets. Subsistence will be provided as heretofore, beginning on Monday, and per diem pay will be allowed. Transportation will be issued by the brigade commanders upon requisition of regimental inspectors. No extra men shall be brought by any team, Blunt's rules shall govern the competitions. Regimental inspectors of rifle practice must attend with their teams. The regimental match will be shot on Thursday, August 30, the skirmish match on Friday, August 31, and the brigade match on Saturday, September 1.

If the necessary money can again be obtained, cash prizes will be shot for as heretofore.

The coming encampmeut at Gettysburg will be called "Camp Samuel W. Crawford," in honor of the distinguished soldies who led the charge of the Pennsylvania reserves during the memorable three days' fight. The encampment will continue eight days, and will be formally opened on August 11. Lieutenant Colonel Charles S. Greene, of Philadelphia, will be provost marshal during the encampment. President Cleveland, Secretary Lamont and other members of the president's cabinet; General Scofield, major genaral commanding the United States army, together with other prominent regular army officers will be present at least one day as the guests of Adjutant General Greenland and review the troope.

The encampment will cost the state about $200,000. Of this $140,000 will be for pay of the troops and the balance for transportation, subsistence, horse hire, qnartermasters' stores and incidentals.

Heavy Draft Horses in Demand.

The heavy draft horse is the only farm stock of which there is not an over production. The city buyers are eagerly hunting for the 1800 pound horses and want them as much heavier as they can get them. They do not stop at price; while they buy thousands of light horses and chunks for $100 they really pay $300 to $500 a pair for the extra heavy drafters when they can find them. Why it is farmers generally do not raise more of the heavy draft horses, instead of small cheap horses? The cities must have more of these extra heavy horses and the prices must advance as the supply is far short of the demand.—Western Agriculturist.

Preserving Tools From Rust.

A good plan for preserving tools from rusting is the simple preparation employed by Professor Olmstead, of Yale college for the preservation of scientific appartus, and which he long ago published for the general good declining to have it patented It is made by the slow melting together of six or eight parts of lard to one of resin stirring till cool. This remains semifluid, ready for use, the resin preventing rancidity and supplying an air-tight film. Rubbed on a bright surface ever so thinly, it protects and preserves the polish effectually and it can be wiped off nearly clean, if ever desired, as from a knife blade, or it may be thinned with coal oil or benzine.

Important to the K. G. E.

On Thursday, September 6, a district convention of the Knights of the Golden Eagle will be held in Stehle's hall, Altoona, and the attendance, even at the early date promises to be large. The district is composed of the counties of Blair, Huntington, Centre, Clearfield and Mifflin counties, and in it there are some seventy-five castles. There will be a parade in the morning and in the afternoon a business session will be held. In the evening there will be addresses by supreme and grand officers of the order.

He Burned the Lice.

Sunbury Item: Thursday morning a farmer named Strunk, living between Lewisburg and Mifflinburg, made a torch of rags and corncobs saturated with kerosene, to clean out his poultry house, which was infested with lice. He succeeded in burning the lice, and likewise his poultry house and several other out buildings, while only the greatest efforts of half the population of Mifflinburg prevented his large bank barn from going up in smoke.

—The recent rains have helped the corn and late potatoes very much.

COMPANY B ELECTS OFFICERS

Both Captain Reber and Lieutenant Reeder Re-Elected.

Any half-observant person could notice an unusual current of excitement among a large number of the masculine population of Bellefonte on Monday which gradually increased as the evening drew near. The reason for all this was that Monday evening was the time for the election of a Captain and First Lieutenant of Company B N. G. P., of this place, and, owing to the reorganization of the company, the soldier boys were divided and each side had its respective candidate to present.

The boys were around in good time and promptly at the appointed hour fifty-four enlisted men, not counting non-commissioned officers, were present to do battle for their respective favorites. The names put in nomination for the Captaincy were W. F. Reber and L. T. Munson. Mr. Reber was elected on the first ballot by a safe majority. For First Lieutenant the names of W. F. Reeder and Hugh S. Taylor were presented. Colonel Burchfield then stated that as Mr. Taylor had been discharged from the Company he was not eligible to be voted for. This left Mr. Reeder the only candidate and his election was made by acclamation. It is needless to attempt to deny the fact that the contest was a bitter one but now that it is over it is to be hoped that any animosity that may have existed will be allowed to die out and that Company B will maintain its reputation as being among the best companies in the National Guard. The election of a second lieutenant will take place next Monday evening.

For the McClellan Monument.

The McClellan memorial association, of Philadelphia, have yet $1,500 to raise on the bronze equestrian statue that is to be erected to the memory of General George B. McClellan.

The state of Pennsylvania appropriated $5,000 to erect the pedestal which has been completed and in place at the northwest corner of the city hall pavement, Philadelphia, for some time. The bronze equestrian statue is now completed and could be in position in ten days. The amount necessary to make all payments and place it in position perfectly free and clear of all claims is $7,000. The association has determined that it will not be placed in position and unveiled until the entire amount is raised. With the amount in the treasury, the sum yet needed is cut down to $1,000. This amount must be raised by voluntary contributions and old soldiers and civilians throughout the state are now appealed to to raise the amount. Any amount, however small, will be gratefully received. Checks or money can be sent to Governor R. E. Pattison, treasurer, Chestnut Street Trust Company, Philadelphia; to Major M. Veale, 615 City Hall, Philadelphia, or to any of the Philadelphia newspapers.

Lemons in Summer.

A correspondent tells us how to prepare lemons in summer so that at any time a cooling drink may be prepared more easily than lemonade and quite as palatable. To six pounds of white sugar add the grated rinds of twelve large lemons, without cutting them. Stir the sugar and grated lemon peel into half a gallon of water and place it over a slow fire until it has dissolved thoroughly. Then increase the heat until it boils enough to thicken, taking the scum off as it arises. After it thickens add the juice of the twelve lemons, carefully leaving out the pulp and seeds. Boil all together for ten minutes, and when cool bottle and keep in a dark cellar. Use in the proportion of one-third lemon syrup to two-thirds water. Another simple drink is made by dropping a quantity of fresh lemon peel into wide mouthed bottles of good vinegar. After it has been prepared for some time, it is quite refreshing on a hot day if a small portion is gradually stirred into a glass of ice water.

A Doctor's Opinion.

"I can't sleep at nights with the heat," said a man, with a tired, up all-night look on his face to Dr. Clarke, the New York biological expect.

"That's because you keep your windows open all day," said the doctor.

"Why, I thought that was the best way to let in fresh air."

"We're not talking of fresh air now," said the doctor. "We're talking of comfort. During the day, if the room is moderately large, the air outside is much warmer than inside. If you let the hot air in, it stays there, and you're in an oven all night. Try shutting the windows during the day to keep the hot air out, and not open them until night, when the atmosphere is ten degrees cooler, and you'll be able to sleep."
